LBJ Seeks Public's Aid On Tax Hike

Asks Support In Inflation Fight By Pressing Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's appeal to the public to help him fight inflation by pressuring Congress for a tax increase is evoking a "let him try it" reaction from Republicans on Capitol Hill.

In an address to a consumers' convention Thursday the President asked the people to "make yourselves heard" in support of the tax increase and to join him in fighting against higher tariffs on imports.

Johnson in effect promised to veto any tariff legislation that comes his way when he thumped the lectern and declared, "These bills must not become law—and they will not become law as long as I am President of this country."

Congressional Democrats were mostly silent about the President's remarks but Republicans expressed confidence Johnson would get burned if he tries to bring the wrath of the voters to bear on Congress in support of a tax increase.

"Let him go to the people with that issue," said Chairman Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, of the House Republican conference.

"We'll go to the people with our side of the same issue. We want to be sure any money raised by a tax increase is used to reduce the deficit and not for more spending. Then we'll talk about a tax increase," said Laird.

Even among Democrats there is apparently still widespread doubt not only that voters favor a tax increase, but that they would forgive those who vote for it.

Rep. Jamie Whitten, D-Miss., author of one of several pending moves for a mandatory spending cut, said the basic issue is still economy, rather than a tax increase.

Rep. Frank T. Bow of Ohio, senior Republican member of the Appropriations Committee, replied to a question about Johnson's appeal with another question: "Did he also appeal to people to demand cuts in spending?"

From the Ways and Means Committee, which shelved the tax increase proposal until some agreement should be reached on spending cuts, came word that nothing has changed.

A well-posted committee source said he considers it dead for this year.

But the principle of a tax increase, if not Johnson's specific program, got support outside government ranks.

During 6th Day Of Attack On Loc Ninh

Viet Cong Use Civilians As Shields During Battle

SAIGON (AP) — Herding civilians in front of them as human shields, Communist forces launched a prolonged attack today on Loc Ninh. The total number of enemy reported killed in six days of fighting for the district headquarters climbed past 850.

Under cover of a mortar barrage, the Viet Cong made a ground assault on newly arrived U.S. infantry reinforcements shortly after midnight, and sporadic action was reported still going more than 12 hours later.

Reports from the fighting today said three Americans and 28 Communists were killed and 34 Americans wounded. The defenders of Loc Ninh, grown to about 5,000 with arrival of a battalion from the U.S. 25th Infantry Division, have reported a total of 11 Americans and 23 South Vietnamese killed and 66 Americans and 74 South Vietnamese wounded in the six-day battle.

U.S. officers said the Communist tactic of sending civilians ahead of the attack forces "naturally restricted" the defenders' answering fire in the first stages of fighting today around the town, 72 miles north of Saigon near the Cambodian border.

But the defenders hit the enemy with artillery, air strikes and twin-engine C47 planes armed with rapid-firing gatling guns.

In the air war against North Vietnam, poor weather persisted for the third day over the Hanoi-Haiphong area Thursday, limiting U.S. pilots mostly to the southern panhandle. But Marine pilots attacked the Yen Bai airfield, now used as a storage area, 65 miles northwest of Hanoi.

Loc Ninh, hub of a rubber-producing area on the main route from Saigon to Cambodia, has some military and economic value, said Col. Frederick Krause of Fullerton, Calif., chief of staff of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division. But he said the Communists' "seemingly blind determination" to take the town stems more from the political, psychological and propaganda value such a victory would have.

In other action, U.S. Marines reported that units based around the outpost of Con Thien just below the demilitarized zone were hit Thursday by 103 mortar and artillery rounds, including shells from North Vietnamese 152mm cannons. Three Marines were reported killed and two wounded.

U.S. fighter-bombers flew a total of 152 missions against North Vietnam Thursday, and the U.S. Command said a Navy A4 Skyhawk was brought down by ground fire. The pilot was missing. It was the 724th U.S. combat plane officially reported lost over the North in the war.

Hanoi claimed two U.S. planes were shot down Thursday and another during a night raid on Hanoi after midnight.

1 Fireman Injured As Timber Falls

School Building In Fredericktown, Home Here Razed

A Fredericktown landmark and a Gardendale home were destroyed today by early-morning fires.

A fireman was injured while fighting the Fredericktown blaze, which leveled an original McGuffey school building and destroyed a truck, lumber and tools.

Donald Dunn, assistant fire chief of the Calcutta Volunteer department, said, considering the contents of the building, that damage would be in excess of $5,000.

Twelve Calcutta firemen and six from the Glenmoor department fought the blaze. Dunn said he received the alarm at 5:02 a.m.

Damage was estimated at $10,000 in the fire which swept the home of Mrs. Peggy Nichols of Gaddes Ave., near the intersection of Woodbine Ave., destroying all the contents.

A Calcutta volunteer fireman, Gary Zimmerman, was struck on the head by falling timber and was treated at City Hospital for a laceration of the forehead and chin and burns of the right wrist in the Fredericktown blaze.

The building, owned by William H. Vodrey Jr., was built in 1878 as an original McGuffey school for William McGuffey, a pioneer in education and author of the McGuffey Reader.

Recently, the building has been used by Joseph Barrett of Fredericktown, who makes pallets used in the pottery industry.

Neighbors sounded the alarm at 12:19 a. m. in the Nichols fire, but firemen said the flames had been raging for some time before it was discovered. No one was home at the time.

The fire originated in the basement and swept up through the frame home, which is one story, with a second - floor addition. The house has aluminum siding which contained the intense heat inside, causing the fire to sweep upward and burn through the roof, firemen pointed out.

The chimney had collapsed by the time firemen arrived. Nine off - duty firemen were called back to help fight the flames and firemen remained at the scene for more than two hours.

Five lines were laid to play water onto the house.

Firemen said the blaze started in the basement and that a malfunction apparently caused the gas furnace to overheat and set fire to nearby wood.

Only an exterior frame was left standing after the blaze was quelled.

Taxes, Benefits Measure Due On Floor

Senate Unit OK's Record Social Security Increases

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some Democratic members of the Senate Finance Committee are voicing concern they may have been politically outmaneuvered in approving a record boost in Social Security taxes and benefits.

The panel reached tentative agreement on the Social Security measure Thursday, after a month of work in closed session, and Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., predicted the bill would be sent to the Senate floor today.

As it now stands, the measure calls for the biggest boosts in benefits and taxes in the 31-year history of Social Security.

And some Democrats, conceding privately the proposal to hike taxes could become a 1968 campaign issue, credited Republican Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware with forcing the boost.

Williams told a reporter his concern was to be certain that all of the benefits added in the Senate committee to the House-passed bill were fully financed starting next year.

"The administration wanted to put off most of this financing until 1969 for what I think are obvious reasons," he said. "But I am getting tired of seeing Congress vote for all these benefits and then not vote for the taxes to pay for them."

Williams said he was surprised that a majority of the committee was willing to go along with his insistence that new taxes starting next Jan 1 be added to the bill to pay for every benefit hike inserted by the committee.

When the price of these benefits was added up it was found it would take a 5 per cent tax rate on both the employer and worker and an $8,700 taxable wage base to pay for them.

For 1967 the rate is 4.4 per cent and the base $6,600. The House voted to continue the rate at the same level in 1968 and increase the base to $7,600 with rate hikes in later years.

The Johnson administration recommended keeping the rate at 4.4 per cent next year but moving the base up to $7,800.

Enactment of the tax rate and base fixed by the Senate panel would reach a $149.60 tax hike next year for the person earning $8,800 or more. He would pay $440 compared with $290.40 this year.

The Senate committee also decided tentatively to increase the base to $10,800 in 1972. The administration had proposed that this be done in 1974.

The biggest benefit increase agreed to so far in the Senate committee is to raise the level of cash benefits to 15 per cent across-the-board with a $70 minimum monthly payment.

Restored School Activity Hinges On Wellsville Levy

Restoration of extracurricular activities — including sports, band, and clubs; the purchase of new textbooks, classroom furniture, typewriters, industrial arts equipment; repairs to buildings; the purchase of $3,000 worth of library books, and additional courses in the curriculum.

All will hinge on the outcome of a 5-mill levy for school operating expenses for a five - year period which faces Wellsville voters Tuesday.

This will mark the fifth time in three years an operating levy has been submitted. The four previous times it was defeated, the last time in the May primary, where it received a majority, but not the 55 per cent required.

Earlier this year the Board of Education was forced to make cutbacks in various activities or be sanctioned by organizations such as the Ohio Education Association.

Cutbacks were made in the athletic program, publications, clubs and other activities.

The primary reason for the cutbacks was to provide teachers with a raise and to increase beginning salaries in order to attract more competent teachers.

$2.6 Billion In Aid Okayed By Conferees

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate and House conferees have agreed on a $2.67 billion foreign aid authorization that would curb the administration's authority to finance arms sales to foreign nations.

The total authorization for foreign aid this fiscal year would be $730 million below the amount asked by President Johnson if the conference version wins final approval. No action is expected in either house before next week.

Conferees approved elimination next June 30 of the Defense Department's authority to guarantee repayment of Export-Import Bank loans to underdeveloped nations for arms purchases.

Administration officials had argued strenuously before Congress for authority to continue such financing, terming it an integral part of U.S. foreign policy. They contended U.S. failure to provide such loans would leave the arms supply field to Communist nations.

The conference action came as the House Banking Committee agreed to a ban on Export-Import Bank financing for exports that go to nations providing supplies or other aid to North Vietnam.

The affidavit was signed by Richard Shoff of the store's staff. Police said Chipps was detained by store personnel and then taken into custody at 7:07 p.m. by Patrolman Dwight Garvey. Chipps originally pleaded not guilty and asked a hearing, then switched his plea to guilty a few minutes later.

Wellsville

have been obtained as a result, school officials point out.

—:—

ANSWERING charges of "pressure" in linking the cutbacks and the levy, members of the board point out that they have acted only in the best interests of the community in the course that has been followed.

The Ohio General Assembly enacted Senate Bill 350 which granted teachers throughout the state a raise beginning last September.

This additional state aid amounted to $133,541 for Wellsville, however, this was not "mad" money for the schools to use as they please.

The state stipulated that it must be spent in the following manner: 75 per cent for the improvement of teachers' salaries and most of the balance for the improvement of non-teaching personnel salaries, vocational units and transportation.

This left $8,000 which could be used for the restoration of cutbacks — cutbacks which amounted to $42,550.

Here's a brief rundown on the physical situation as presented by the school administration and members of the board:

Over all, 10 rooms of classroom furniture are needed, with students now using old-type "runner-rail" desks in many instances, some without seats. Makeshift chairs from other classrooms also are being used.

The equipment in the industrial shop is in bad condition, some of it being over 40 years old. Some $13,000 would be spent on equipment replacement and $6,000 on classroom furniture.

GARFIELD School is "in terrible condition," with broken plaster, musty basement rooms and dilapadated furniture. At least one leak is discovered every time it rains. If the levy is passed, $8,000 per year will be used for repairs.

Substitute teachers will be hired for the first and second day of the regular teachers illness if the levy is approved. The past few months students have been sent home in the grade schools, causing an added burden on working parents, it was pointed out.

In addition, $10,000 would be spent on textbooks, $2,500 on educational supplies and a total of $9,650 on extra curricular activities.

If the levy is approved, it will cost the average household between $12 and $14.

With three seats open, two men have filed for Board of Education.

Dr. Janis Lauva, Russell Dysert and Daniel MacLean, board members the past several years, are not seeking re-election.

Dr. Frank Rivelle of 619 Riverside Ave., a graduate of Wellsville High School, and Philip Chronister of Hamilton Rd. are seeking the positions.

Four others have expressed themselves as candidates for the third seat on a write-in vote.

They are: Ralph Fusco, salesman and past president of the Jaycees; Fusco has been endorsed by the Jaycees and the Wellsville SOI; Mrs. Floreine Broderick, an employe of the Wellsville City Loan Co.; Mary Jenkins, a retired schoolteacher, and Mrs. Betty Corbisello, a housewife and mother of school-age children.

To vote for a write-in candidate, voters must write in the name in the space provided and place an X in front of it.

Claim Eyed In Death Of Chester Boy

An East Liverpool attorney has informed the Hancock County Board of Education he may file a suit for a Chester area family seeking damages as the result of the death of an elementary student in May of 1966.

Atty. Bernard Fineman told the board he is legal counsel for Robert Powers whose son, Robert Lee Powers, 9, died of a fractured skull after he fell down an outside stairwell while waiting for a school bus.

Fineman has asked the board to recognize the claim. He explained this could be done by passing a resolution recognizing the board's responsibility in the matter. The resolution would be sent to the West Virginia legislature for approval. Powers is seeking $9,000.

Prosecutor Floyd Tarr has told the board that as a subdivision of the state, the board cannot be sued. An opinion would first have to be obtained from the state attorney general's office on the validity of the claim, and if one is found, it still will be up to the state auditor to pay the claim. He added the state auditor has refused to pay any claims to date.

Tarr pointed out there is a good chance contributory negligence on the part of the deceased boy was involved. The stairwell was surrounded by a guard railing at the time, he added.

The equipment in the industrial shop is in bad condition, some of it being over 40 years old. Some $13,000 would be spent on equipment replacement and $6,000 on classroom furniture.

GARFIELD School is "in terrible condition," with broken plaster, musty basement rooms and dilapadated furniture. At least one leak is discovered every time it rains. If the levy is passed, $8,000 per year will be used for repairs.

Substitute teachers will be hired for the first and second day of the regular teachers illness if the levy is approved. The past few months students have been sent home in the grade schools, causing an added burden on working parents, it was pointed out.

In addition, $10,000 would be spent on textbooks, $2,500 on educational supplies and a total of $9,650 on extra curricular activities.

If the levy is approved, it will cost the average household between $12 and $14.

With three seats open, two men have filed for Board of Education.

Dr. Janis Lauva, Russell Dysert and Daniel MacLean, board members the past several years, are not seeking re-election.

Dr. Frank Rivelle of 619 Riverside Ave., a graduate of Wellsville High School, and Philip Chronister of Hamilton Rd. are seeking the positions.

Four others have expressed themselves as candidates for the third seat on a write-in vote.

They are: Ralph Fusco, salesman and past president of the Jaycees; Fusco has been endorsed by the Jaycees and the Wellsville SOI; Mrs. Floreine Broderick, an employe of the Wellsville City Loan Co.; Mary Jenkins, a retired schoolteacher, and Mrs. Betty Corbisello, a housewife and mother of school-age children.

To vote for a write-in candidate, voters must write in the name in the space provided and place an X in front of it.

Claim Eyed In Death Of Chester Boy

An East Liverpool attorney has informed the Hancock County Board of Education he may file a suit for a Chester area family seeking damages as the result of the death of an elementary student in May of 1966.

Atty. Bernard Fineman told the board he is legal counsel for Robert Powers whose son, Robert Lee Powers, 9, died of a fractured skull after he fell down an outside stairwell while waiting for a school bus.

Fineman has asked the board to recognize the claim. He explained this could be done by passing a resolution recognizing the board's responsibility in the matter. The resolution would be sent to the West Virginia legislature for approval. Powers is seeking $9,000.

Prosecutor Floyd Tarr has told the board that as a subdivision of the state, the board cannot be sued. An opinion would first have to be obtained from the state attorney general's office on the validity of the claim, and if one is found, it still will be up to the state auditor to pay the claim. He added the state auditor has refused to pay any claims to date.

Tarr pointed out there is a good chance contributory negligence on the part of the deceased boy was involved. The stairwell was surrounded by a guard railing at the time, he added.

Willshaw For Mayor

A yardstick of accomplishment—past and potential—could well be used by East Liverpool voters in measuring candidates for municipal office in Tuesday's general election.

The city is fortunate in having two mayoralty nominees — George Willshaw, Republican incumbent, and Robert Owen, Democrat -- who are capable and experienced in municipal affairs.

Mr. Owen showed ability as a safety-service director, served on Council at one time, held a County Commissioner post briefly after appointment, and has become further acquainted with the problems and needs of the city as a member of the Planning Commission.

However, Mayor Willshaw has even more experience in office, a broader understanding of city government, and his administration has achieved a degree of cooperation with Council which has resulted in significant strides for the betterment of East Liverpool in the past two years.

As a veteran member of Council and as its president, he has developed a well-rounded total picture of this city's operations, from finances and services to inter-governmental communication and voters' desires.

Mayor Wilshaw and Robert Vodrey, safety-service director, have achieved an effective working relationship with Council and city departments, a relationship in which Democrats and Republicans have sacrificed party differences for the welfare of the city.

There have been purchases of property for a needed city garage and a new landfill dump, enlargement of parking facilities, street improvements, success in meeting such planning goals as zoning and subdivision regulations and other advances, all exemplifying progress despite limited resources.

Mayor Willshaw is knowledgeable about the complex state and federal programs which have already aided our planning and housing projects and which promise more assistance in the future. He has qualities which permit him to view the overall aspects of community development, and to direct with an awareness of both the potential and the limitations of this city.

Ahead lie the problems of urban redevelopment, traffic congestion, extension of the Freeway east, street modernization, housing, recreation improvement, industrial growth, finances, further implementation of planning.

For the first time in the city's history, a mayor will be elected to a four-year term. Mayor Willshaw has not only earned this term, East Liverpool needs his proven leadership, experience and ability to work with others in meeting the serious and complex challenges of the future.

Encore At City Hall

The successful partnership of administration and Council over the past two years deserves an encore.

As the municipality's legislative body, purse-string guardian and final authority on policy, Council holds the destiny of the city's operations and growth in its collective hands.

The five incumbents seeking re-election and two other nominees who would fit into the pattern of cooperation and compromise deserve support of the voters.

Councilman-at-large Robert Sample (R) has continued to demonstrate an exceptional understanding of community needs and the best way to meet them; Councilman-at-large Frank Duffy (D) has a veteran legislator's familiarity with East Liverpool problems, and James Cunningham (D), who served on Council in 1964-65, is genuinely interested in city development, and has the experience to implement his ideas.

In the First Ward, incumbent Floyd Murray (D) in his past term has not completely met the full range of all his responsibilities, but he has a grasp of municipal affairs which give him an edge over Jonathan Mason (R), onetime state senator.

John Wilson (R) and John Kelly (D) are candidates for the Second Ward post now held by Wilson's wife, Mrs. Donna R. Wilson. Despite Mr. Kelly's previous experience in Council in 1960-61, we believe Mr. Wilson's background and awareness of Councilmanic responsibilities suit him better for the post.

Third Ward Councilman James Lowe (R) has prove a capable and conscientious legislator, and has shown a growth in ability to an extent which Donald Smith (D) did not achieve while he was in office.

Harold Maylone (R), incumbent Fourth Ward Councilman, has performed his duties well and rates a second term over Edward Massey (D), who held the post four years ago.

President of Council Ernest Lowe (R) faces incumbent Councilman Norman Bucher in a bid for re-election. Both men have records of accomplishment, and Mr. Bucher could fill the job well. But Lowe has been one of the key men in the important working arrangement with the administration that has made the present Council effective, and warrants another term.

Needed--More Classrooms

In September 1966 Beaver Local schools began the fall term with 2,557 students. This year the schools opened with 2,658 students, and the enrollment in the past two months has risen to 2,697 — virtually 2,700.

The increase in enrollment in the school district has been steady over the years, a reflection of the growing residential areas in St. Clair Township and other parts of the district.

Overcrowded conditions at the high school and Public School have been apparent for some time, and it should not be difficult for residents of the district to understand the feasibility of investing in a school enlargement program now.

Not only because there is a need for the classrooms and other facilities, there will be an ever growing need in the next few years, and the economy of undertaking construction as soon as possible is obvious.

The high school — originally designed to house four grades of 550 pupils — is operating only three grades of 580 students, with the ninth grade at the Public School.

Students deserve proper classrooms, the education system operates best in the structure for which it was intended — balanced, uncrowded, efficient. Unless voters support the proposed $480,000 bond issue for new additions, students will not be obtaining the best environment, the system will operate less efficiently, and the situation will become critical.

The bond issue deserves approval at the polls Tuesday because it is the best — and in the long run, the cheapest way — of meeting a serious problem in Beaver Local District.

The Principle, Not The Money

No one can say how much money the Department of Defense will save by withdrawing its sponsorship of the National Rifle and Pistol Matches at Camp Perry.

It won't be enough to notice among the department's multi-billions. By comparison with the money Ohio would have lost in Camp Perry rentals and Port Clinton would have lost in commerce if the National Rifle Association had washed out the matches, it would be peanuts.

But the issue was not so much the money as the principle.

A great many Americans simply could see no valid reason for the Department of Defense to put up general revenue for the benefit of the people who went to National Rifle and Pistol Matches.

They were not shooting pursuant to developing prowess as soldiers in the field.

Their attendance at the matches could not possibly have bearing on the kill rate of U.S. forces in any current or future war.

It was one of those unexplainable leaks in the U.S. Treasury that remind taxpayers how much easier it is to drain out revenue than it is to earn the income on which taxes are levied. It had rubbed a saddle sore on the U.S. conscience.

The National Rifle Association could not understand this. It could not see any reason for the Department of Defense to pull out of the Camp Perry matches, other than to save money.

Come to think of it, the NRA has trouble understanding many public attitudes about guns.

A Letter To Pierre

By Art Buchwald

Pierre Bernheim
16 Avenue Hoche
Paris, France
My Dear Pierre,

Forgive me for not writing sooner, but as you know there is a war going on in the United States and I have been in my fallout shelter for several months.

Art Buchwald

The Pentagon is still in the hands of the government. An assault last weekend by members of the 51st Light Peace Brigade, known as the Fighting Doves, supported by the 33rd Flower Battalion, failed and was repulsed by members of the 82nd Airborne Division of the U.S. Army. There was heavy fighting in the north parking lot and suicide units of the SDS (Students for a Democratic Society) managed to get to the steps of the building before they were turned back.

Gen. Norman Mailer of the 22nd Heavy Obscenity Corps was captured, as were 600 other Militant Peace Commandos.

THE ATTACK started with a barrage of curse words followed by an assault across the demilitarized zone with clubs, pop bottles and tomatoes.

In fierce hand-to-hand combat, the loyal government troops held their ground, and by evening Army spokesmen were able to announce that the Pentagon was safe, at least for the moment.

But while it turned out to be a military victory for the government, neutral observers here believe that President Johnson's pacification program in the United States is failing.

In order to win the war in the United States, Mr. Johnson has to win the hearts and minds of the American people. This he is failing to do, and there is considerable speculation that his regime may be overthrown by November, 1968.

While the President still has support in Washington, D.C., (his wife, Sen. Everett Dirksen and his future son-in-law) it's very hard to find it in the countryside. There has been fighting in Madison, Wis., Boston, Mass., Oakland, Calif., and Brooklyn, N.Y.

THE MILITARY is dissatisfied with the civilian control of the situation and would like to wipe out the peace resisters once and for all. They want to bomb Harvard, Yale, the University of Michigan, the University of Wisconsin and the University of California at Berkeley, but these targets, for political reasons, are still off limits.

The military men claim they can't win the war if the peace marchers continue to use the Dr. Benjamin Spock Trail.

So you see, my dear Pierre, the situation in the United States is quite serious, and some experts predict it will go on for 20 years. I know you are worried for our safety, but please be assured we are taking all precautions.

We sleep in the fallout shelter, and Helene only goes out in the morning to buy bread and milk. I fly the French flag from my automobile to show everyone I am neutral, and, if worse comes to worse, the embassy has assured us a cruiser will be sent to evacuate us. Thank God I kept my French passport.

Your cher ami,
Francois

WASHINGTON

This country is going through a kind of convulsion over the war, although all American wars spawned unhappy and gloomy critics when they began to bog down, like this one.

Some of the public disagreement over the Vietnam war can be blamed perhaps for some of this year's lazy performance in Congress where the war has consumed much of the time, thinking and talking.

President Johnson, in a hastily called news conference Thursday, once again complained about the slow pace of Congress, which is good evidence he has lost his political mastery.

But Congress, like Johnson, also has been watching a sickening sight at home — growing violence — which may have taken a lot of the salt out of both of them.

There was nothing to match the present violence and protests in America's last war, in Korea. More and more the question is being asked: Why now?

The origin probably has its roots in the last 10 years, on a road that began in the 1950s, when young white people from the North went South to help Negroes wipe out segregation. Some were beaten, some were jailed, some were killed.

BUT THEY had justice on their side in the Supreme Court's 1954 decision outlawing school segregation. They varied their tactics in testing the segregation laws still in effect, so they rode segregated buses, engaged in sit-ins, and so on.

This was direct action by the young people of both races and it paid off as the racial barriers began to crumble. All this helped give American youth a sense of being able to shape events by directly taking part in them.

The Rev. Martin Luther King's peaceful marches were an extension of this form of protest on a vast scale. But achievement through protest carries with it a sense of power.

The search for power grew and, as could have been expected, took new turns. For instance, on college campuses youths began to assert themselves against college authority but claimed what they sought was justice in one form or another.

No longer were the issues as clear-cut as they were in protests against injustice to Negroes. No doubt often, if not most of the time, the college youths' protests were not against injustice but had a root in personal problems.

FOR MANY of them the shouting, capering and defiance of college authority may have been the frantic, pitiful try for recognition by classmates, for some identity of their own, a deep-seated protest against parental authority or authority in general.

This seems like a reasonable explanation since so many of the campus protests have been brainless. Then came the two Negro extremists, Stokely Carmichael and H. Rap Brown. They didn't have thought-out plans or programs.

Their chief weapon was shouting "Black Power" and calling for violence. They found a responsive audience among Negroes who felt frustrated by their dilapidated economic condition and by white indifference.

This also opened the door for Negro criminals who were just waiting for a chance or an excuse to perform. Increasingly Negro riots spread across the country.

As it turned out, these riots were mostly temper-tantrums on a vast scale. The slum Negroes did not make war on whites — although that may be next in line—but concentrated on destroying their own area in a city.

Meanwhile, more and more members of Congress added to the national confusion about the war — since most of them in 1964 had approved Johnson's waging it if he thought necessay — by criticising the government's handling of it.

ON TOP OF all this America's so-called intellectuals have teamed up against the war. Some of them by intellectual processes may have arrived at logical reasons for being critical.

Some of them are probably joining the chorus because they think it is the intellectually stylish thing to do and fear the condemnation of their colleagues if they say otherwise.

Seeing their professors critical of government is an encouragement to students to be critical of school government and eventually national government. This is not to say many thousands of American dissenters about the war are not sincere.

Thousands marched peacefully on the Pentagon last month to protest the war. Then a comparatively small group resorted to violence and talked of shutting down the Pentagon. These are the truly brainless in American life. And they will amost certainly be heard from again.

Immune Unions

An important piece of information has been divulged by the Department of Justice — namely, that it has been preparing a suit under the antitrust laws which would seek to reduce the size and economic strength of General Motors Corp.

If filed, the charge would be that this corporation holds a monopolistic share of the auto industry of the United States.

A court ruling to that effect — and the government usually wins antitrust suits — could mean prices of automobiles would go up and the American people would find it more expensive to own automobiles.

It has often been assumed that General Motors might be able to reduce its prices. It has been suggested, however, that this would hurt its competitors and perhaps drive some of them out of business.

Price-cutting, which has such a result, is supposed to be unlawful.

THE PRACTICAL question, that will be posed before the courts is how to "increase competition" in the automotive industry. The problem is so preplexing that the Department of Justice, under this and preceding administrations has been for years studying the intricacies of the antitrust laws without actually filing a suit against General Motors.

In May 1966, the U.S. Supreme Court introduced a new definition of "monopoly."

It ruled that two chain-store companies, which after a merger had a total of 7.5 per cent of the sales in the Los Angeles area, should not have combined. This was supposed to be too large a part of the market to be in the hands of one company.

What percentages would be applied in the automobile industry? Nobody has yet come forward with a formula.

The history of the auto industry has shown that companies able to produce a lot of their own supplies and to introduce efficient methods of assembly have been able to cut costs but not prices. Labor unions have demanded higher and higher wages anyway. Some companies have been forced out of business.

General Motors has 1,415,000 stockholders. It is the largest company in the United States, with the exception of American Telephone & Telegraph Co. Ford Motor Co. has 439,000 shareholders. Chrysler has 196,000.

The 25 biggest companies in the United States are owned by 10,909,000 stockholders. The total number of stockholders in the country is estimated at 22 million.

It is obvious that nearly one-half of the total is concentrated in 25 companies. Maybe the courts will hold some day that this is an unequal division of ownership and will find some utopian method of increasing the affluence of millions of people so more of them will be shareholders.

Chances are that corporate stocks will be worth less and less if the government meddles with the efficient operation of American business. When monopolies have been broken up, the shares of the smaller-sized corporations have usually been able to recover lost ground, but only after several years.

Whether in the long run smaller companies will be as efficient as the bigger ones is going to be determined not by judicial decisions but economic factors.

TO BREAK up a large company is risky, because it indirectly affects many smaller companies which supply goods to the large one. It seems unlikely that antitrust suit against General Motors will be filed soon. But even if they are, it is doubtful whether the final court judgment will be arrived at until after the 1968 election, because the trial and the appeals will take a long time.

So, politically speaking, about the only impact the filing of the suit might have is to produce uncertainty for shareholders of General Motors.

It would emphasize, however, more clearly than ever that an administration in power is reluctant for political reasons to tackle the biggest single monopoly in the industrial world — namely, the unions.

They are today able to fix a major part of the costs of manufacturing and indirectly fix prices without being charged with "unfair competition" or "price fixing" or a violation of any other of the antitrust laws.

Yet, as wage rates are raised, this weakens marginal competitors and helps to produce a trend toward a smaller number of surviving companies.

Gen. Norman Mailer of the 22nd Heavy Obscenity Corps was captured, as were 600 other Militant Peace Commandos.

THE ATTACK started with a barrage of curse words followed by an assault across the demilitarized zone with clubs, pop bottles and tomatoes.

In fierce hand-to-hand combat, the loyal government troops held their ground, and by evening Army spokesmen were able to announce that the Pentagon was safe, at least for the moment.

But while it turned out to be a military victory for the government, neutral observers here believe that President Johnson's pacification program in the United States is failing.

In order to win the war in the United States, Mr. Johnson has to win the hearts and minds of the American people. This he is failing to do, and there is considerable speculation that his regime may be overthrown by November, 1968.

While the President still has support in Washington, D.C., (his wife, Sen. Everett Dirksen and his future son-in-law) it's very hard to find it in the countryside. There has been fighting in Madison, Wis., Boston, Mass., Oakland, Calif., and Brooklyn, N.Y.

THE MILITARY is dissatisfied with the civilian control of the situation and would like to wipe out the peace resisters once and for all. They want to bomb Harvard, Yale, the University of Michigan, the University of Wisconsin and the University of California at Berkeley, but these targets, for political reasons, are still off limits.

The military men claim they can't win the war if the peace marchers continue to use the Dr. Benjamin Spock Trail.

So you see, my dear Pierre, the situation in the United States is quite serious, and some experts predict it will go on for 20 years. I know you are worried for our safety, but please be assured we are taking all precautions.

We sleep in the fallout shelter, and Helene only goes out in the morning to buy bread and milk. I fly the French flag from my automobile to show everyone I am neutral, and, if worse comes to worse, the embassy has assured us a cruiser will be sent to evacuate us. Thank God I kept my French passport.

Your cher ami,
Francois

WASHINGTON

This country is going through a kind of convulsion over the war, although all American wars spawned unhappy and gloomy critics when they began to bog down, like this one.

Some of the public disagreement over the Vietnam war can be blamed perhaps for some of this year's lazy performance in Congress where the war has consumed much of the time, thinking and talking.

President Johnson, in a hastily called news conference Thursday, once again complained about the slow pace of Congress, which is good evidence he has lost his political mastery.

But Congress, like Johnson, also has been watching a sickening sight at home — growing violence — which may have taken a lot of the salt out of both of them.

There was nothing to match the present violence and protests in America's last war, in Korea. More and more the question is being asked: Why now?

The origin probably has its roots in the last 10 years, on a road that began in the 1950s, when young white people from the North went South to help Negroes wipe out segregation. Some were beaten, some were jailed, some were killed.

BUT THEY had justice on their side in the Supreme Court's 1954 decision outlawing school segregation. They varied their tactics in testing the segregation laws still in effect, so they rode segregated buses, engaged in sit-ins, and so on.

This was direct action by the young people of both races and it paid off as the racial barriers began to crumble. All this helped give American youth a sense of being able to shape events by directly taking part in them.

The Rev. Martin Luther King's peaceful marches were an extension of this form of protest on a vast scale. But achievement through protest carries with it a sense of power.

The search for power grew and, as could have been expected, took new turns. For instance, on college campuses youths began to assert themselves against college authority but claimed what they sought was justice in one form or another.

No longer were the issues as clear-cut as they were in protests against injustice to Negroes. No doubt often, if not most of the time, the college youths' protests were not against injustice but had a root in personal problems.

FOR MANY of them the shouting, capering and defiance of college authority may have been the frantic, pitiful try for recognition by classmates, for some identity of their own, a deep-seated protest against parental authority or authority in general.

This seems like a reasonable explanation since so many of the campus protests have been brainless. Then came the two Negro extremists, Stokely Carmichael and H. Rap Brown. They didn't have thought-out plans or programs.

Their chief weapon was shouting "Black Power" and calling for violence. They found a responsive audience among Negroes who felt frustrated by their dilapidated economic condition and by white indifference.

This also opened the door for Negro criminals who were just waiting for a chance or an excuse to perform. Increasingly Negro riots spread across the country.

As it turned out, these riots were mostly temper-tantrums on a vast scale. The slum Negroes did not make war on whites — although that may be next in line—but concentrated on destroying their own area in a city.

Meanwhile, more and more members of Congress added to the national confusion about the war — since most of them in 1964 had approved Johnson's waging it if he thought necessay — by criticising the government's handling of it.

ON TOP OF all this America's so-called intellectuals have teamed up against the war. Some of them by intellectual processes may have arrived at logical reasons for being critical.

Some of them are probably joining the chorus because they think it is the intellectually stylish thing to do and fear the condemnation of their colleagues if they say otherwise.

Seeing their professors critical of government is an encouragement to students to be critical of school government and eventually national government. This is not to say many thousands of American dissenters about the war are not sincere.

Thousands marched peacefully on the Pentagon last month to protest the war. Then a comparatively small group resorted to violence and talked of shutting down the Pentagon. These are the truly brainless in American life. And they will amost certainly be heard from again.

Immune Unions

An important piece of information has been divulged by the Department of Justice — namely, that it has been preparing a suit under the antitrust laws which would seek to reduce the size and economic strength of General Motors Corp.

If filed, the charge would be that this corporation holds a monopolistic share of the auto industry of the United States.

A court ruling to that effect — and the government usually wins antitrust suits — could mean prices of automobiles would go up and the American people would find it more expensive to own automobiles.

It has often been assumed that General Motors might be able to reduce its prices. It has been suggested, however, that this would hurt its competitors and perhaps drive some of them out of business.

Price-cutting, which has such a result, is supposed to be unlawful.

THE PRACTICAL question, that will be posed before the courts is how to "increase competition" in the automotive industry. The problem is so preplexing that the Department of Justice, under this and preceding administrations has been for years studying the intricacies of the antitrust laws without actually filing a suit against General Motors.

In May 1966, the U.S. Supreme Court introduced a new definition of "monopoly."

It ruled that two chain-store companies, which after a merger had a total of 7.5 per cent of the sales in the Los Angeles area, should not have combined. This was supposed to be too large a part of the market to be in the hands of one company.

What percentages would be applied in the automobile industry? Nobody has yet come forward with a formula.

The history of the auto industry has shown that companies able to produce a lot of their own supplies and to introduce efficient methods of assembly have been able to cut costs but not prices. Labor unions have demanded higher and higher wages anyway. Some companies have been forced out of business.

General Motors has 1,415,000 stockholders. It is the largest company in the United States, with the exception of American Telephone & Telegraph Co. Ford Motor Co. has 439,000 shareholders. Chrysler has 196,000.

The 25 biggest companies in the United States are owned by 10,909,000 stockholders. The total number of stockholders in the country is estimated at 22 million.

It is obvious that nearly one-half of the total is concentrated in 25 companies. Maybe the courts will hold some day that this is an unequal division of ownership and will find some utopian method of increasing the affluence of millions of people so more of them will be shareholders.

Chances are that corporate stocks will be worth less and less if the government meddles with the efficient operation of American business. When monopolies have been broken up, the shares of the smaller-sized corporations have usually been able to recover lost ground, but only after several years.

Whether in the long run smaller companies will be as efficient as the bigger ones is going to be determined not by judicial decisions but economic factors.

TO BREAK up a large company is risky, because it indirectly affects many smaller companies which supply goods to the large one. It seems unlikely that antitrust suit against General Motors will be filed soon. But even if they are, it is doubtful whether the final court judgment will be arrived at until after the 1968 election, because the trial and the appeals will take a long time.

So, politically speaking, about the only impact the filing of the suit might have is to produce uncertainty for shareholders of General Motors.

It would emphasize, however, more clearly than ever that an administration in power is reluctant for political reasons to tackle the biggest single monopoly in the industrial world — namely, the unions.

They are today able to fix a major part of the costs of manufacturing and indirectly fix prices without being charged with "unfair competition" or "price fixing" or a violation of any other of the antitrust laws.

Yet, as wage rates are raised, this weakens marginal competitors and helps to produce a trend toward a smaller number of surviving companies.

Mental Health Unit Marks Third Year Of Operation

The Hancock - Brooke County Mental Health Society marked its third year of operation during a meeting Thursday night at Weirton General Hospital.

The service began in November 1964 at the hospital.

Mrs. Audrey Litman, president, said the mental health service, sponsored by the society, has expanded from one staff member employed one day a week to a staff of five operating three days a week.

She read a report from the West Virginia Mental Health Association regarding present conditions of the five state hospitals.

It points out West Virginia still has no state hospital accredited by the National Medical and Psychiatric Hospital Association. The report reviewed many improvements in the past two years, but said state hospitals continue to be 30 to 50 per cent overcrowded, have outdated facilities and inadequate staffs.

Gov. Hulett C. Smith Monday revealed plans for a $500 million bond issue which, if approved by voters, would provide approximately $60 million for construction at institutions administered by the Departments of Mental Health and Public Institutions.

Dr. Mildred Bateman, state mental health director, has presented capital improvements requests totaling $60 million for mental institution building projects.

She said some existing mental hospital buildings were started before the Civil War and a major capital improvement program is needed to eliminate fire and other physical hazards that pose a constant threat to patients entrusted to the care of the department.

Smith has said he opposed any more appropriations for repair or renovation of older buildings at mental hospitals.

"We ought to tear them down and build new ones," he declared.

The Mental Health Society will explore the report further to determine the Mental Health Association's recommendations to improve these conditions, Mrs. Litman said.

The next meeting will be Dec. 7.

Steel Haulers Meeting Amid Split Rumors

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Steel hauling truckers meet tonight in Cleveland, Ohio, amid reports of a split in the group that led a nine-week strike that paralyzed the steel industry.

Lawyer Bernard Berkman said he called the meeting to wrap up loose ends and make possible a request for dismissal of suits filed during the strike.

Kusley wants to discuss possible resumption of the strike. He has charged some of the independent haulers have not been given any work since the strike.

Berkman said Kusley's claim is false, but denied that the truckers group was falling apart.

"It's a question of which meeting they (the drivers) want to attend," Berkman said. "Our organization is strong, Kusley is weak. He says things that are not true."

Berkman represented the driver-owners in negotiations that ended the violence - plagued strike. He also represents Overdrive Roadmasters, the national organization of truck owner-drivers.

Firemen Plan For Yule Tree

Plans for a community Christmas tree were advanced Wednesday night during a meeting of the Chester fire department. Fifteen attended.

Johnston announced a school will be held Saturday at 1 p. m. in the Weirton Heights station concerning tank truck fires. The instructor will be Harry Foot of New Jersey, nationally known instructor.

Local Motorist Cited Following Accident

An East Liverpool resident was cited for speeding and operating a motor vehicle on an expired driver's license by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon after being involved in a one-car accident Thursday night at 7:15 on Route 7 south of Rogers.

He told the patrol he was attempting to pass one car when he saw another approaching in the left lane at a high rate of speed. Staley said he swerved and upon doing so lost control, went off the right side, came back on the highway and slid out of control, striking the guardrail.

NEW CUMBERLAND — The second and final reading of the proposed utility tax ordinance will be presented during a meeting of Council Monday at 7:30 p.m.

The session will be held in the community house instead of the city building to permit more residents to hear the proposal, which would place a tax on gas and electricity.

The tax would total 4 per cent of a resident's monthly electric bill and 3 per cent of the monthly gas bill.

It would be collected by the utility companies and turned over to the municipality in regular installments during the year.

This would mark the first time the community has had a utility tax, but, it has been pointed out, similar levies are in effect in area communities.

It points out West Virginia still has no state hospital accredited by the National Medical and Psychiatric Hospital Association. The report reviewed many improvements in the past two years, but said state hospitals continue to be 30 to 50 per cent overcrowded, have outdated facilities and inadequate staffs.

Gov. Hulett C. Smith Monday revealed plans for a $500 million bond issue which, if approved by voters, would provide approximately $60 million for construction at institutions administered by the Departments of Mental Health and Public Institutions.

Dr. Mildred Bateman, state mental health director, has presented capital improvements requests totaling $60 million for mental institution building projects.

She said some existing mental hospital buildings were started before the Civil War and a major capital improvement program is needed to eliminate fire and other physical hazards that pose a constant threat to patients entrusted to the care of the department.

Smith has said he opposed any more appropriations for repair or renovation of older buildings at mental hospitals.

"We ought to tear them down and build new ones," he declared.

The Mental Health Society will explore the report further to determine the Mental Health Association's recommendations to improve these conditions, Mrs. Litman said.

The next meeting will be Dec. 7.

Steel Haulers Meeting Amid Split Rumors

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Steel hauling truckers meet tonight in Cleveland, Ohio, amid reports of a split in the group that led a nine-week strike that paralyzed the steel industry.

Lawyer Bernard Berkman said he called the meeting to wrap up loose ends and make possible a request for dismissal of suits filed during the strike.

Kusley wants to discuss possible resumption of the strike. He has charged some of the independent haulers have not been given any work since the strike.

Berkman said Kusley's claim is false, but denied that the truckers group was falling apart.

"It's a question of which meeting they (the drivers) want to attend," Berkman said. "Our organization is strong, Kusley is weak. He says things that are not true."

Berkman represented the driver-owners in negotiations that ended the violence - plagued strike. He also represents Overdrive Roadmasters, the national organization of truck owner-drivers.

Midland School Set To Observe Its Anniversary

Midland will mark the 50th anniversary of its high school next week, part of the observance of American Education Week.

The first class of five students was graduated from Midland High in 1917.

Mrs. Grace Lyons Gordon of Midland Heights was one of the first graduates and now is teaching in the same room at 7th St. School where she received her education.

She plans to conclude her long teaching career this term.

A native of Industry Township, Mrs. Gordon recalls walking 1½ miles "over the hill" to Midland to school. Because she had taken some of her high school work in Beaver before coming to Midland, she was somewhat advanced and was graduated in January. She also taught part of a year at Vanport while still in high school. Following graduation she taught grades three and four for two years in the two - room school then located on the second floor of the Borough building.

FOLLOWING her marriage, she moved to Beaver Falls and resided in that area 20 years, raising five children. She taught off and on during that time. In 1960 she was asked to teach special education classes in Beaver County, since she had taken additional work to qualify herself in this field. She taught these classes four years in Industry and has been at Midland three years. For the past 25 years she has lived at Midland Heights.

During this period, she worked 13 years as a housemother for nurses at the East Liverpool City Hospital School of Nursing, before returning to her teaching career.

She recalls her high school days as days of fun when Gambles Drug Store on 7th St. and Midland Ave. was the "hangout" for all the high school students — then numbering only 35. Her senior class numbered seven, with two boys quitting in their senior year, and five remaining to graduate.

Mrs. Gordon was valedictorian of her graduating class.

She said students are no different today, because kids then were just as "ornery." She said one of their favorite escapades at that time was turning on the fire hoses in the school basement.

—:—

MRS. GORDON teaches nine special education students with the aid of Esther Snyder of Beaver.

The general theme for the week - long education observance beginning Monday and continuing through next Friday will be "How Good Are Your Schools?"

Although the high school reaches its golden jubilee this year, the school district had its beginning in 1907 as the Neals Independent School District, just one year after Midland became a town in 1906. It continued under the name until 1913 when it became the Midland Borough School District as it is known today.

When the school district began in 1907 it employed three teachers — Arthur T. Meeder, who was to teach and also act as principal for $80 monthly; Miss Delores Reed and Miss Martha Ralston. Today the district employs 60 professional employees, eight secretarial and clerical employees and 12 custodial employees.

IT WASN'T until 1927 when the present high school was completed that it marked its first graduation. Until then students graduated from various buildings within the district, with the first graduates, one boy and four girls, Grace Lyons, Myer Silverman, Irene Yost, Eleanor McGeehan and Matilda Edmonds, receiving their diplomas in 1917 from the Neal School, the district's oldest school, built in 1908. It is known today as the 7th St. School. Mrs. Gordon serves as an instructor, for the Beaver County Special Services Division which administers one class in the 7th St. School.

Because of the difficulty in handling the many new students moving into the district, classes for beginners were started in January as well as September, thus requiring two graduations. This practice continued until 1929 when it was discontinued in favor of only one graduating class.

Varsity sports — football and basketball — have been part of the Midland school scene since 1919 when both started. Until the completion of the high school in 1927, the basketball team played in the city building. It wasn't until 21 years later, in 1948, that the football team played its first game on its own field. Midland High School holds many WPIAL titles including the 1965 State Basketball title.

MIDLAND'S FIRST yearbook, the Arrow, was published in 1923, but was discontinued in 1928. For the next 17 years, 1928 to 1945, there was no yearbook. However, in 1946 it appeared under a new name, RODIS, and has been in publication ever since.

Track was added to the list of varsity sports in 1926. The following year, 1927, a drum and bugle corps was formed, and in 1928 it became the Midland High School Band. The '50's saw the varsity marching band travel throughout the eastern part of the nation and return with many top awards for its performances.

Baseball was a latecomer. It wasn't until 1946 when the first team was organized. However, an eye for the fairer sex had its beginnings in 1928 when Gertrude Schorr, now Mrs. Stephen Trbovich, was named the school's first May Queen and placed on a throne outside the gym door and carried inside by a group of senior boys.

The 10 year period from 1937 to 1947 saw the continued expansion of extra - curricular activites in the high school with the formation of the Senior Tri-Hi-Y, See-Fi-S, Sophomore Tri-Hi-Y, Student Council, A Capella Choir, Girls' Chorus, Boys' Chorus, 4th St. Choir, and a combined High School Chorus. C. Lloyd Deffenbaugh continues as director of the choirs in addition to serving as supervisor of music.

STILL ANOTHER queen was about to make her debut — this time it was the football queen, the first being Martha Egley, crowned by football captain Bill Trimble in 1947.

The year 1947 was the year of the queens at Midland High, for in addition to a football queen, the first basketball queen —Eileen Roach — was crowned by the team's captain, "Tiny" Migliore.

Added to the continuing list of extra - curricular activities were the Junoior High Historical Honor Society, Student Court, and Senior Historical Honor Society.

In addition to providing for a continually expanding curriculum and developing a creative atmosphere in which extra-curricular activites could flourish during the past half century, the Board of Education in the 1920's set up a health program for the district's children; this has been in existence ever since.

The first school doctor hired by the school board in 1921 was Dr. J. W. Cristler. He examined the children once a year and was paid 25 cents per pupil.

MARGARET FOSTER was hired in 1926 as the first school nurse. In 1928 Mrs. Hazel Crum was hired as a dental hygienist.

Curriculum - wise, the high school offers academic, scientific, business and general courses. In addition, it is noteworthy that as the high school starts on its next 50 years, its curriculum is taking another step forward in the form of offering adult evening classes in cooperation with the Beaver County Community College and the Pennsylvania State University.

Noted lawyers, judges, doctors, dentists, nurses, educators, engineers, community leaders and ordinary citizens have received their basic education in the Midland Borough School District during the past 60 years.

Open house activities in conjunction with the week's observance includes Lincoln High School Monday from 7-9 p.m.; the 4th St. elementary school, Wednesday from 7-9 p.m., and the 1st St. and 7th St. elementary schools, next Thursday from 7-9 p.m.

CAREER TO END. Mrs. Grace Lyons Gordon, an instructor at Midland's 7th St. School, was a member of the first graduating class from Midland High School 50 years ago. She is teaching in the same building where she completed her high school education. Mrs. Gordon will conclude her teaching career this term.

Car Hits Pole, Injuring Man

A 23-year-old Dixonville man suffered a bump on the head when his auto struck an old utility pole placed on a Thompson Park road near the municipal swimming pool Thursday night, police reported.

The 1964 two-door sedan driven by Thomas Lee Jones of Dixonville came over a rise in the road alongside the pool and struck the pole despite the driver's efforts to halt, police said. The mishap was timed at 7:34.

The collision sprang both doors of the auto and also damaged the undercarriage.

A LaCroft man was cited on a charge of improper backing after a collision Thursday at 3:52 p. m. on the parking lot of the A. & P. Supermarket near St. Clair Ave., officers said.

The citation was issued to Joseph Hendricks, 65, of 8th Ave., LaCroft, after his backing 1962 two-door sedan bumped a 1964 four-door sedan driven by Harry Gordon, 75, of 339 Dunn St., Chester, officers said.

Hendricks was backing from an angle parking spot on the market's lot and Gordon was pulling onto the private property, officers said.

She taught these classes four years in Industry and has been at Midland three years. For the past 25 years she has lived at Midland Heights.

During this period, she worked 13 years as a housemother for nurses at the East Liverpool City Hospital School of Nursing, before returning to her teaching career.

She recalls her high school days as days of fun when Gambles Drug Store on 7th St. and Midland Ave. was the "hang-out" for all the high school students — then numbering only 35. Her senior class numbered seven, with two boys quitting in their senior year, and five remaining to graduate.

Mrs. Gordon was valedictorian of her graduating class.

She said students are no different today, because kids then were just as "ornery." She said one of their favorite escapades at that time was turning on the fire hoses in the school basement.

—:—

MRS. GORDON teaches nine special education students with the aid of Esther Snyder of Beaver.

The general theme for the week - long education observance beginning Monday and continuing through next Friday will be "How Good Are Your Schools?"

Although the high school reaches its golden jubilee this year, the school district had its beginning in 1907 as the Neals Independent School District, just one year after Midland became a town in 1906. It continued under the name until 1913 when it became the Midland Borough School District as it is known today.

When the school district began in 1907 it employed three teachers — Arthur T. Meeder, who was to teach and also act as principal for $80 monthly; Miss Delores Reed and Miss Martha Ralston. Today the district employs 60 professional employees, eight secretarial and clerical employees and 12 custodial employees.

IT WASN'T until 1927 when the present high school was completed that it marked its first graduation. Until then students graduated from various buildings within the district, with the first graduates, one boy and four girls, Grace Lyons, Myer Silverman, Irene Yost, Eleanor McGeehan and Matilda Edmonds, receiving their diplomas in 1917 from the Neal School, the district's oldest school, built in 1908. It is known today as the 7th St. School. Mrs. Gordon serves as an instructor, for the Beaver County Special Services Division which administers one class in the 7th St. School.

Because of the difficulty in handling the many new students moving into the district, classes for beginners were started in January as well as September, thus requiring two graduations. This practice continued until 1929 when it was discontinued in favor of only one graduating class.

Varsity sports — football and basketball — have been part of the Midland school scene since 1919 when both started. Until the completion of the high school in 1927, the basketball team played in the city building. It wasn't until 21 years later, in 1948, that the football team played its first game on its own field. Midland High School holds many WPIAL titles including the 1965 State Basketball title.

MIDLAND'S FIRST yearbook, the Arrow, was published in 1923, but was discontinued in 1928. For the next 17 years, 1928 to 1945, there was no yearbook. However, in 1946 it appeared under a new name, RODIS, and has been in publication ever since.

Track was added to the list of varsity sports in 1926. The following year, 1927, a drum and bugle corps was formed, and in 1928 it became the Midland High School Band. The '50's saw the varsity marching band travel throughout the eastern part of the nation and return with many top awards for its performances.

Baseball was a latecomer. It wasn't until 1946 when the first team was organized. However, an eye for the fairer sex had its beginnings in 1928 when Gertrude Schorr, now Mrs. Stephen Trbovich, was named the school's first May Queen and placed on a throne outside the gym door and carried inside by a group of senior boys.

The 10 year period from 1937 to 1947 saw the continued expansion of extra - curricular activites in the high school with the formation of the Senior Tri-Hi-Y, See-Fi-S, Sophomore Tri-Hi-Y, Student Council, A Capella Choir, Girls' Chorus, Boys' Chorus, 4th St. Choir, and a combined High School Chorus. C. Lloyd Deffenbaugh continues as director of the choirs in addition to serving as supervisor of music.

STILL ANOTHER queen was about to make her debut — this time it was the football queen, the first being Martha Egley, crowned by football captain Bill Trimble in 1947.

The year 1947 was the year of the queens at Midland High, for in addition to a football queen, the first basketball queen —Eileen Roach — was crowned by the team's captain, "Tiny" Migliore.

Added to the continuing list of extra - curricular activities were the Junoior High Historical Honor Society, Student Court, and Senior Historical Honor Society.

In addition to providing for a continually expanding curriculum and developing a creative atmosphere in which extra-curricular activites could flourish during the past half century, the Board of Education in the 1920's set up a health program for the district's children; this has been in existence ever since.

The first school doctor hired by the school board in 1921 was Dr. J. W. Cristler. He examined the children once a year and was paid 25 cents per pupil.

MARGARET FOSTER was hired in 1926 as the first school nurse. In 1928 Mrs. Hazel Crum was hired as a dental hygienist.

Curriculum - wise, the high school offers academic, scientific, business and general courses. In addition, it is noteworthy that as the high school starts on its next 50 years, its curriculum is taking another step forward in the form of offering adult evening classes in cooperation with the Beaver County Community College and the Pennsylvania State University.

Noted lawyers, judges, doctors, dentists, nurses, educators, engineers, community leaders and ordinary citizens have received their basic education in the Midland Borough School District during the past 60 years.

Open house activities in conjunction with the week's observance includes Lincoln High School Monday from 7-9 p.m.; the 4th St. elementary school, Wednesday from 7-9 p.m., and the 1st St. and 7th St. elementary schools, next Thursday from 7-9 p.m.

CAREER TO END. Mrs. Grace Lyons Gordon, an instructor at Midland's 7th St. School, was a member of the first graduating class from Midland High School 50 years ago. She is teaching in the same building where she completed her high school education. Mrs. Gordon will conclude her teaching career this term.

Car Hits Pole, Injuring Man

A 23-year-old Dixonville man suffered a bump on the head when his auto struck an old utility pole placed on a Thompson Park road near the municipal swimming pool Thursday night, police reported.

The 1964 two-door sedan driven by Thomas Lee Jones of Dixonville came over a rise in the road alongside the pool and struck the pole despite the driver's efforts to halt, police said. The mishap was timed at 7:34.

The collision sprang both doors of the auto and also damaged the undercarriage.

A LaCroft man was cited on a charge of improper backing after a collision Thursday at 3:52 p. m. on the parking lot of the A. & P. Supermarket near St. Clair Ave., officers said.

The citation was issued to Joseph Hendricks, 65, of 8th Ave., LaCroft, after his backing 1962 two-door sedan bumped a 1964 four-door sedan driven by Harry Gordon, 75, of 339 Dunn St., Chester, officers said.

Hendricks was backing from an angle parking spot on the market's lot and Gordon was pulling onto the private property, officers said.

NEW CUMBERLAND — Dr. James E. Fisher of New Cumberland has returned home after an eight-week tour of Europe. During his trip, he took postgraduate courses at the Barraquer Eye Clinic in Barcelona, Spain, and St. John's Hospital for Diseases of the Skin in London.

The first electrical railway was in England, the Liverpool Overhead Railway, which began operations in February of 1893.

Mother Of 4 Dying Of Cancer Has Some Weighty Problems

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)— Mrs. Jean Runyon is a tiny mother of four children with some weighty problems. She has to lean heavily on her 19-year-old son, Robert Runyon.

Mrs. Runyon learned two weeks ago that she is dying of cancer.

"Everything is happening so fast," she said. "We just don't know what to do."

She and three of her children are living on the veteran's pension and Social Security checks she has received since her husband died of a heart ailment three years ago. Her fourth child, Linda, is married with two small children of her own.

Mrs. Runyon is a war bride whose mother and sister live in England. The family has no relatives here. Her husband's relatives live in West Virginia and she hasn't seen them in years.

Robert, the oldest son, wants to keep the family together and he said he would like to do this himself.

He helps with the washing and is learning to cook. His main worry is the military draft. He said he is scheduled for induction Nov. 6 and has asked his board to review his case.

The other children are Pam, 12, and Bryan, 8. Robert said they don't fully understand what is happening to the family.

"We've talked a lot," the 40-year-old mother said, "but we just don't get anywhere."

Mrs. Runyon said she doesn't feel bad although she tires quickly and is losing weight rapidly. She had been under a doctor's care for some time and recently went into a hospital for some tests. Exploratory surgery revealed the cancer which doctors say is terminal.

She said she is more troubled about legal problems involving her children and the mortgage on the house than she is about herself.

"The doctor advised me to see a lawyer as soon as I got out of the hospital," she said. "That frightened me.

"When the hospital asked us how we would pay the bills, we just said 'monthly' like we do everything else.

A group of English born women in Dayton has started raising funds through international clubs. They hope to bring Mrs. Runyon's mother here from England to care for the children.

"I think she would want to come," Mrs. Runyon said.

ANTI-SMOKING CAMPAIGNS

Q. Have high school anti-smoking campaigns been successful?

A. Modest results have been obtained but some authorities believe that no great measure of success in such campaigns can be realized unless significant inroads can be made against adult smoking.

X-RAY PICTURES

Q. Several months ago a doctor took x-ray pictures of my stomach. I am moving to another city and would like to have the pictures. How do I go about getting them?

A. The general rule is that x-ray pictures, unless there is prior agreement to the contrary, are the property of the doctor who made them, or of the hospital in which they were made. The patient contracts for an opinion or advice concerning such pictures, not for their ownership. If the need arises, a doctor in your new location can obtain necessary information and/or the pictures.

Mother Of 4 Dying Of Cancer Has Some Weighty Problems

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)— Mrs. Jean Runyon is a tiny mother of four children with some weighty problems. She has to lean heavily on her 19-year-old son, Robert Runyon.

Mrs. Runyon learned two weeks ago that she is dying of cancer.

"Everything is happening so fast," she said. "We just don't know what to do."

She and three of her children are living on the veteran's pension and Social Security checks she has received since her husband died of a heart ailment three years ago. Her fourth child, Linda, is married with two small children of her own.

Mrs. Runyon is a war bride whose mother and sister live in England. The family has no relatives here. Her husband's relatives live in West Virginia and she hasn't seen them in years.

Robert, the oldest son, wants to keep the family together and he said he would like to do this himself.

He helps with the washing and is learning to cook. His main worry is the military draft. He said he is scheduled for induction Nov. 6 and has asked his board to review his case.

The other children are Pam, 12, and Bryan, 8. Robert said they don't fully understand what is happening to the family.

"We've talked a lot," the 40-year-old mother said, "but we just don't get anywhere."

Mrs. Runyon said she doesn't feel bad although she tires quickly and is losing weight rapidly. She had been under a doctor's care for some time and recently went into a hospital for some tests. Exploratory surgery revealed the cancer which doctors say is terminal.

She said she is more troubled about legal problems involving her children and the mortgage on the house than she is about herself.

"The doctor advised me to see a lawyer as soon as I got out of the hospital," she said. "That frightened me.

"When the hospital asked us how we would pay the bills, we just said 'monthly' like we do everything else.

A group of English born women in Dayton has started raising funds through international clubs. They hope to bring Mrs. Runyon's mother here from England to care for the children.

"I think she would want to come," Mrs. Runyon said.

ANTI-SMOKING CAMPAIGNS

Q. Have high school anti-smoking campaigns been successful?

A. Modest results have been obtained but some authorities believe that no great measure of success in such campaigns can be realized unless significant inroads can be made against adult smoking.

X-RAY PICTURES

Q. Several months ago a doctor took x-ray pictures of my stomach. I am moving to another city and would like to have the pictures. How do I go about getting them?

A. The general rule is that x-ray pictures, unless there is prior agreement to the contrary, are the property of the doctor who made them, or of the hospital in which they were made. The patient contracts for an opinion or advice concerning such pictures, not for their ownership. If the need arises, a doctor in your new location can obtain necessary information and/or the pictures.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

The Lennen Sisters Break Away

Not only have the Lennon sisters grown up (all four are married now), but they are about to branch out on their own. Beginning the first of next year, maestro Lawrence Welk will have their services only once a month. The rest of the time they will spend on TV guestings and night club engagements.

Hal Humphrey

Viewers can sample the "new" Lennons next Tuesday when they appear on the Jerry Lewis Show (Channel 3 at 8 p.m.) singing and dancing. Also, early next month they will be on a "Hollywood Palace" show, and in February the Lennon Sisters reach the pinnacle with a spot on Ed Sullivan's venerable vaudeville bill.

-:-

IT EVIDENTLY took some doing for the girls to loosen the Gordian knot with Welk, for whom they still have an intense loyalty. It was Welk who gave them their start on his show in December 1955, and they blossomed under his tutelage.

"He was okay about our doing this," says Kathy, who last June married Mahlan Clark, a clarinet-sax man in the Welk band.

"Oh, he wanted to think about it, and at first thought we could still be with him each week and do the other things. But that was impossible. Anyway, we hope to have more time for our families under this new arrangement. That's one of the reasons we're doing it."

ANOTHER REASON is that fundamental one—money. Dianne, the eldest (she'll soon be 29), has three children. Peggy, 26, also has three and Janet, 21, (the youngest), has one.

The girls are thinking ahead to when they'll need the money for offsprings' education, and Welk, who never was known as a spendthrift, still pays the girls union scale wages. About four years ago he gave them solo scale instead of quartet scale, but that's the only raise in 12 years.

When the Lennon girls' new managers, Bob Eubanks and Steve Wolff, recently got them a booking at the Shamrock Hotel in Houston to sing at a New Year's Eve show for $5,000, Peggy couldn't believe it.

"WHY WOULD anyone pay that much just to see us" she wanted to know. On the road with Welk the girls get $50 each per performance, and except for plane fare they pay their own hotel and other expenses.

Within the next few days the Lennons are signing a new recording contract with Mercury Records, and this, coupled with their TV guest shots and night club work, will bounce them well into the six-figure income group the coming year.

The girls' managers insist this financial bonanza won't change them one little bit. They will, says Eubanks, be the same sweet things they've always been.

"But we're going to broaden their repertoire to include some of the new music so they'll pick up fans who don't watch the Welk show," he adds.

"'KATHY LENNON says, "That's right. We'll be doing more up-to-date sounds, but the harmony and style will be the same, and we'll still do the standards."

All four Lennons believe they will have more time off under their once-a-month arrangement with Welk, but listening to the plans their managers have for them makes the Lennons sound busier than a one-man band with five instruments plus cymbals tied to his knees.

"We want them to do commercials, too," says Steve Wolff, "and we're hoping for their own TV series, maybe this next summer."

THE LENNONS have had no acting experience, unless one counts some of the production numbers they do on Welk's show but, as Wolff says, "'They can play themselves." Since a lot of so-called TV actors do just that, who's to say the Lennons can't

It might be said that they've already proved that. Nobody pays out $5,000 for one night to a "'square act."

Byrd Given Support On Retirement Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert O. Byrd, D-W. Va., has finally got committee support in his long fight to have Congress lower the voluntary retirement age from 62 to 60.

The senator told the Senate yesterday some 10,000 West Virginians could apply for Social Security benefits if the age requirements were lowered.

The Senate Finance Committee voted in favor of Byrd's proposal earlier this week.

W. Va. Sues 18 Top Publishers In Price Rigging

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia has filed a federal antitrust suit against 18 leading national publishers, charging they conspired to rig prices in sales of public school text books to state and local government units.

The suit alleges the firms illegally agreed to maintain prices higher than a normal competitive market would support. State Atty. Gen. C. Donald Robertson said the suit did not quote specific overcharge amounts, but estimated that $15 million has been spent by the state and its agencies on books published by the companies from as far back as 1949.

Robertson said the suit was filed at Chicago in U.S. District Court, Northern Illinois District (Eastern Division), under provisions of the Sherman Antitrust Act.

Named defendants in the suit were:

Harper & Row Publishers, Inc.; Bobbs - Merill Co., Inc.; Children's Press, Inc.; Thomas Y. Crowell Co.; Dodd, Mead & Co., Inc.; E. P. Dutton & Co., Inc.; G. P. Putnam's Sons; Random House, Inc.; Charles Scribner's Sons; Viking Press, Inc.; Henry Z. Walch Inc.; and Franklin Watts, Inc.

Robertson, asked if the state could seek recovery on behalf of parochial schools, said the suit involved only purchases made with public funds, but added: "Undoubtedly the parochial schools suffered from the same situation, but I don't represent the parochial schools."

Hearing Set Jan. 15 On Allstate Rate Hike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Public hearings on auto insurance rate increases announced recently by the Allstate Insurance Co. will begin Jan. 15, State Insurance Director William R. Morris said Thursday.

Morris has said he considers the increases, averaging seven per cent statewide for liability coverage and four per cent for collision coverage, as "excessive." But no cutback in the increase can be ordered by the Department of Insurance until after public hearings.

Industry, Ohioville and Glasgow Borough residents will cast ballots Tuesday for three members of the Western Beaver School Board of Directors.

Three Republicans and three Democrats are seeking the three at-large positions. No incumbents are on the ballot. Two were defeated at the primary and the third did not seek re-election.

The Democrat candidates are Joseph Kadilak, William Rosenberg and George Vlaich. Running on the GOP ticket are Martin N. Lindsay, Betty Jane Brucker and William Wentz.

Kadilak, 43, resides at Smiths Ferry RD 1. He served in the Air Force 38 months during World War II and attended classes in mathematics, blueprint reading and mechanical drawing under the GI Bill of Rights. He has been a maintenance worker at Crucible Steel Co. 13 years and is a member of Local Union 121, the American Legion, Western Beaver Boosters Club and a director of the Midland Area United Fund. He was chairman of the Ohio Township Board of Supervisors three years.

KADILAK SAYS he believes "the most pressing problem facing us today in our local school districts is the take-over of local boards by the state government. It seems to me they are trying to move the administrative authority further and further from the local districts into larger and larger districts. . ."

He says he is opposed to any merger with any other school district.

Rosenberg resides on Beaver Ave., Industry RD 2. A general supervisor in the production control department at Crucible, he attended Alfred University and Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute. He is a member of the Lions Club, board of directors of the Crucible Management Club, the Western Beaver Boosters Club and other fraternal and social organizations.

He also is against a merger of Western Beaver with any school district and says he will work "for sensible spending of the tax dollar to provide the best possible scholastic education for the students with a high standard of teachers, and adequate buildings and equipment."

VLAICH, 39, resides at Ohioville, Industry RD 1, and is a maintenance foreman at Crucible. An Army veteran, he served during the Korean campaign.

A graduate of Midland High, he attended Geneva College. He is a member of the IOOF, a past scoutmaster and a member of the Western Beaver Boosters.

Vlaich cites "growing pains. The transition from a farm area to a suburban area. . . . . and recreational areas for our children. . . " as problems of the area He says he plans to use "some good old common horse sense in the application of the tax payer's money" and question money matters on the school budget to determine if there are areas where some can be saved. He also said schools should be run free of "politics."

Wentz, 41, resides at Industry RD 2. A Air Force veteran, he is a graduate of Penn State University and is employed as a control metallurgist at Crucible.

He is a member, former teacher and past Sunday School superintendent of the Ohio View Lutheran Church. He was active in scouting and is a director of the Crucible Management Club and an adviser to the Community College.

HE SAYS HE will work for the best possible education for children without creating an excessive tax burden for the residents to get the most for the dollar "both in materials and education."

Lindsay resides on the Fairview Rd., Industry, while Mrs. Brucker is a resident of Ohio View RD 2.

The Lennen Sisters Break Away

Not only have the Lennon sisters grown up (all four are married now), but they are about to branch out on their own. Beginning the first of next year, maestro Lawrence Welk will have their services only once a month. The rest of the time they will spend on TV guestings and night club engagements.

Hal Humphrey

Viewers can sample the "new" Lennons next Tuesday when they appear on the Jerry Lewis Show (Channel 3 at 8 p.m.) singing and dancing. Also, early next month they will be on a "Hollywood Palace" show, and in February the Lennon Sisters reach the pinnacle with a spot on Ed Sullivan's venerable vaudeville bill.

-:-

IT EVIDENTLY took some doing for the girls to loosen the Gordian knot with Welk, for whom they still have an intense loyalty. It was Welk who gave them their start on his show in December 1955, and they blossomed under his tutelage.

"He was okay about our doing this," says Kathy, who last June married Mahlan Clark, a clarinet-sax man in the Welk band.

"Oh, he wanted to think about it, and at first thought we could still be with him each week and do the other things. But that was impossible. Anyway, we hope to have more time for our families under this new arrangement. That's one of the reasons we're doing it."

ANOTHER REASON is that fundamental one—money. Dianne, the eldest (she'll soon be 29), has three children. Peggy, 26, also has three and Janet, 21, (the youngest), has one.

The girls are thinking ahead to when they'll need the money for offsprings' education, and Welk, who never was known as a spendthrift, still pays the girls union scale wages. About four years ago he gave them solo scale instead of quartet scale, but that's the only raise in 12 years.

When the Lennon girls' new managers, Bob Eubanks and Steve Wolff, recently got them a booking at the Shamrock Hotel in Houston to sing at a New Year's Eve show for $5,000, Peggy couldn't believe it.

"WHY WOULD anyone pay that much just to see us" she wanted to know. On the road with Welk the girls get $50 each per performance, and except for plane fare they pay their own hotel and other expenses.

Within the next few days the Lennons are signing a new recording contract with Mercury Records, and this, coupled with their TV guest shots and night club work, will bounce them well into the six-figure income group the coming year.

The girls' managers insist this financial bonanza won't change them one little bit. They will, says Eubanks, be the same sweet things they've always been.

"But we're going to broaden their repertoire to include some of the new music so they'll pick up fans who don't watch the Welk show," he adds.

"KATHY LENNON says, "That's right. We'll be doing more up-to-date sounds, but the harmony and style will be the same, and we'll still do the standards."

All four Lennons believe they will have more time off under their once-a-month arrangement with Welk, but listening to the plans their managers have for them makes the Lennons sound busier than a one-man band with five instruments plus cymbals tied to his knees.

"We want them to do commercials, too," says Steve Wolff, "and we're hoping for their own TV series, maybe this next summer."

THE LENNONS have had no acting experience, unless one counts some of the production numbers they do on Welk's show but, as Wolff says, "They can play themselves." Since a lot of so-called TV actors do just that, who's to say the Lennons can't

It might be said that they've already proved that. Nobody pays out $5,000 for one night to a "square act."

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My mother used to say, "Always wear nice underwear. You never can tell when you'll get into an accident." I thought that was pretty funny. Yesterday I stopped laughing.

A college friend and I went bike riding. We're experienced cyclists and neither of us had ever had an accident. Della's bike suddenly hit a hole in the cement. She went sailing head first and landed in a clump of bushes.

Fortunately, a squad car was within 100 feet of us and the police officers rushed her to the hospital. Of course I went along.

The first thing the doctor did was cut off Della's blouse and slacks. Soon she regained consciousness and called me by name. Although she was in pain she seemed much more concerned about her underwear than her injuries.

And well she might have been. I never saw such a filthy brassiere — torn and faded — and her pantie girdle was in even worse condition.

Luckily she suffered only a broken shoulder and a dislocated hip, but she told me later that her embarrassment over her underwear was more painful than her injuries.

I learned a lesson at Della's expense, Ann. Maybe others can profit by it as I have. — through.

NEAT ALL THE WAY THROUGH.

Dear Neat: Thank you for sharing. Okay, girls, take a fast reading. Are you wearing undies you wouldn't mind modeling in an emergency room? How's the lace on your slip? Is your girdle a wee mite shredded. Did you hurriedly pin that busted bra strap this morning instead of sewing it on? Upgrade your underwear, Sisters. You know now.

Dear Ann: My next-door neighbor has read every word you've ever written. Before you get to feeling let me tell you that the idea behind this is to catch you in a mistake.

She checks out every fact, gets on the phone and calls the newspaper, the public library, legal aid, welfare agencies, clinics, veterinarians, doctors, clergymen, police, firemen, the post office — anybody she can pump for information.

I would judge that this nut spends anywhere from two to three hours a day trying to trip you up. She thought she had you the day you said a pregnant WAC is not kicked out of the service and dishonorably discharged. Her face fell a foot when she was told by the recruiting officer here, "Ann is right. Pregnant WACs are simply separated from the service."

This woman used to be the town's worst meddler and most vicious troublemaker. Since she has made you her hobby she hadn't had time for troublemaking and gossip. So thank you. — RCO.

Dear RCO: I'm delighted that I'm providing a harmless outlet for the woman's energies. If she catches a mistake, I'd be delighted to hear from her.

Confidentially

To Plenty Suspicious: Just because a man wants to smell good doesn't mean he has another dame some place. Good grief, Woman, get off his back or he might make good your goofy accusations.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

DIANN'S 'DOG' wouldn't win any prizes at the local dog show, but she'd sure raise a ruckus among the canine entries. Orphaned last spring, the raccoon was raised by Diann Rusch, 16, of Okauchee, Wis., with the permission of the state Conservation Dept., and is now easily handled and will walk on a leash.

Second Churchill Defeated; Wilson Forces Drubbed

LONDON (AP) — The second Winston Churchill lost in his political debut Thursday but gave Britain's Labor government a good scare.

In other special elections for the House of Commons, Prime Minister Harold Wilson's forces suffered stunning defeats in districts previously theirs by large majorities. And 27-year-old Winston Spencer Churchill II came within several hundred votes of making it a clean sweep against the Laborites.

The loss of two seats will have no effect on the government's control of the House of Commons, where the Laborites have a majority of nearly 100 seats. But the unrelieved picture of Labor setbacks showed that disenchantment with the government is strong, chiefly because of wage restraints and the unemployment that has resulted from its austerity program.

The freckle-faced journalist grandson of Britain's wartime leader, who campaigned on charges of broken government promises, increased the Conservative vote in the predominantly working class Manchester district of Gorton from 16,418 last year to 18,682, while the Labor vote dropped from 24,726 to 19,259.

Kenneth Marks, a 46-year-old schoolmaster, defeated Churchill for the seat which had been held since 1954 by Konni Zilliacus, an extreme leftist who died in July. The total vote was unusually heavy for a special election, and Labor's percentage dropped from 60 per cent last year to 46.

Dear Folks: Now here's what I call a dilly of an idea.

When you wish to heat a partially used can of dog or cat food which has been refrigerated, let me tell you how I save washing a pan.

After tearing off the label, I set the can over the pilot light on my gas stove. Then, if I have any leftover vegetables (which most pets need), I dump them in the can also, stir it up and leave it until the can gets warm.

This is just like feeding a baby. Not ever too hot, yet it has warmth to it. And it sure beats washing another pan, eh?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When your umbrella wears out, don't throw it away.

If you'll remove the warn cloth, it makes an excellent portable clothesline. The spokes are just right for the small hand-wash that you do every week, such as slips, hose, etc.

Pin on your wash and hook it over the clothesline outside, in the garage or basement over a rafter. If you're short on line space it can be hooked over the bathtub shower rod.

LIL HERMAN.

DEAR HELOISE: I have found a solution to an uneven load when washing small throw rugs in an automatic top-loader washer.

I have one rug which I wash alone due to the color. It always caused the machine to stop several times during the rise and spinning cycles because of an unbalanced load.

So now, after the wash cycle, and again after the rinse cycle, I just drape it over the agitator and lo and behold, it spins dry with no more trouble.

Now my machine doesn't do the "Watusi" while spinning.

I.C.B.

DEAR HELOISE: My year-old daughter just got over a bout with a chest cold. We used a vaporizer with tincture of benzoin compound at night. But when the cold was gone, I was left with a gooey mess in the vaporizer well.

Our druggist, bless him, recommended good old nail polish remover. And believe me, it works. Our vaporizer was like new in five minutes!

I got the idea of buying a three-foot-wide door and stain-varnishing it. My husband bolted it to the bed frame and it's really lovely. Less expensive, too, than a read made headboard.

JOANN HUNTER.

DEAR HELOISE: A friend of ours was stricken with a severe heart attack and was taken to the hospital and placed under intensive care for some time. His wife went with him in the ambulance, not having time to even take her purse; and stayed with him during the critical period.

Another friend brought the wife a "Care Package" — toothpaste, brushes, combs, mouthwash, facial tissue, and a package of dimes. Have you ever tried to get change for phone calls or coffee and soft drink machines in the wee hours of the morning?

This was such a thoughtful, useful idea that I felt perhaps someone else could help a friend when help is really needed.

DEAR HELOISE: Anyone need a handy rack for their purses?

I've found a dish rack (not a drainer) the perfect answer. As a rule they are sold to "stand" dishes in, but try them for those out-of-season purses. The racks set neatly on the closet shelf, keeping your handbags upright and in shape.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My mother used to say, "Always wear nice underwear. You never can tell when you'll get into an accident." I thought that was pretty funny. Yesterday I stopped laughing.

A college friend and I went bike riding. We're experienced cyclists and neither of us had ever had an accident. Della's bike suddenly hit a hole in the cement. She went sailing head first and landed in a clump of bushes.

Fortunately, a squad car was within 100 feet of us and the police officers rushed her to the hospital. Of course I went along.

The first thing the doctor did was cut off Della's blouse and slacks. Soon she regained consciousness and called me by name. Although she was in pain she seemed much more concerned about her underwear than her injuries.

And well she might have been. I never saw such a filthy brassiere — torn and faded — and her pantie girdle was in even worse condition.

Luckily she suffered only a broken shoulder and a dislocated hip, but she told me later that her embarrassment over her underwear was more painful than her injuries.

I learned a lesson at Della's expense, Ann. Maybe others can profit by it as I have. — through.

NEAT ALL THE WAY THROUGH.

Dear Neat: Thank you for sharing. Okay, girls, take a fast reading. Are you wearing undies you wouldn't mind modeling in an emergency room? How's the lace on your slip? Is your girdle a wee mite shredded. Did you hurriedly pin that busted bra strap this morning instead of sewing it on? Upgrade your underwear, Sisters. You know now.

Dear Ann: My next-door neighbor has read every word you've ever written. Before you get to feeling let me tell you that the idea behind this is to catch you in a mistake.

She checks out every fact, gets on the phone and calls the newspaper, the public library, legal aid, welfare agencies, clinics, veterinarians, doctors, clergymen, police, firemen, the post office — anybody she can pump for information.

I would judge that this nut spends anywhere from two to three hours a day trying to trip you up. She thought she had you the day you said a pregnant WAC is not kicked out of the service and dishonorably discharged. At Meeting In Lisbon

Changes In Cub Program Will Be Outlined Sunday

LISBON — Boy Scouts of America headquarters reports nearly five years of research and preparation are behind major changes in the Cub Scout program for boys 8, 9 and 10.

All den mothers in the Columbiana Council are invited to an afternoon and evening meeting on the new program Sunday at the American Legion Home on W. Lincoln Way.

Bennett D. Taylor Jr., council executive at Scout headquarters here, and Jack Hovis of Salem, council training chairman, will present highlights of the new program from 2 to 4 p.m.

Lunch will be served from 4 to 5 and a one - hour period for questions and answers will follow. Printed material on the new program will be dispayed. Tayor asks mothers planning to attend to notify the Boy Scout office immediately.

NEARLY 100 prospective Cubs showed interest when the program was outlined at a parents' orientation meeting last week at the first United Presbyterian Church in Salem.

increasing the program's natural appeal for boys and providing more help for volunteer leaders, Taylor said.

"An important finding of the national research," he added, "is that Cub scouting would continue to grow without any changes, but the improved program will hold the Cubs interest longer and 'graduate' more into Boy Scouting when they reach their 11th birthday."

Columbiana Council, including all of Columbiana County plus Chester and Newell, has 901 Cub Scouts in 29 packs.

The revisions are aimed at The improved program adopted nationwide this fall includes changes in requirements for achievements and electives for the wolf and bear ranks (8- and 9-year - olds, respectively), and introduces a new program —the Webelos — for the 10-year-olds. Any 10-year-old boy may join even if he has not been a Cub.

WEBELOS Scouts will work in 15 hobby and vocational subjects for activity badges. The subjects vary from aquatics and sports to technical fields like geology, forestry and engineering. The Webelos will have a distinctive uniform. In addition to attending weeky meetings, they wil make occasional hikes and one or two dad-and-son overnight camping trips each year.

A newly - created leadership position is that of den leader coach, usually a woman, to give new den mothers training and assistance. She can assist cubmasters in recruiting new den mothers.

Father Cited In Children's Poison Deaths

ARCADIA, Fla. (AP) — James Richardson was charged on a coroner's warrant Thursday night with first degree murder in the parathion poisoning of his seven small children.

Richardson, 31, was charged after a six-member coroner's jury ruled he and "other persons unknown" administered the parathion "feloniously, willfully and of his malice aforethought and with premeditated design."

"I just say I'm not guilty," the 5-foot-9 fruit picker said after Sheriff Frank Cline read the charge to him.

Richardson, who had been in jail since Tuesday night on a technical charge of child neglect, was accused of putting the parathion—a deadly agricultural pesticide that affects the nervous system—on food eaten by his children Oct. 29.

The children—ranging in age from 2 to 8—became violently ill within minutes. Six of them died that afternoon, and the seventh died the next morning.

Testimony at the inquest indicated Richardson had attempted to purchase $1,000 double indemnity insurance policies on each of the children the night before they were stricken. The insurance agent, Gerald Purvis of Palmetto, testified Richardson may have interpreted his remarks to mean the insurance was effective at once although the initial $3.20 premium had not been paid.

The children's mother, Annie Mae, 29, remained in jail on a child neglect charge filed Tuesday. She and her husband were arrested after they submitted to lie detector tests.

3 From District Injured In Falls

Three area women injured Thursday in separate falls were in "fair" condition today at City Hospital, where five others were treated.

Janet Ingram, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ingram of 81 Grant St., Newell, a laceration of the right palm on tin; Rhonda Bartlett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Bartlett of Rudibaugh Rd., a laceration of the forehead when she fell against a desk.

It's always dear season for the office wolf.

Post 374 Awaits Banquet

Cincinnati Man To Speak At Dinner Here Saturday

Phillip R. McBride of Cincinnati will be guest speaker for a Veterans Day banquet Saturday at 6:30 p. m. at American Legion Post 374.

A native of Youngstown, he attended Seton Hall University (N. J.) and in late 1953 transferred to Cincinnati, where he completed his education at Chase College and Xavier University.

A member of Bond Hill-Roselawn Post 427 at Cincinnati, he served as commander in 1958 and three times on the staff of the Ohio American leadership college. 50 Students Will Take Part In Seminar On Engineering

Fifty junior students from high schools in Hancock and Brooke Counties will be guests of the National Steel Research Center in Weirton Saturday for an engineering seminar.

E. J. Smith, director of research and development for the National Steel Corp., said the program will be conducted from 9 a.m. until noon to acquaint the students with the engineering profession.

He said the meeting will be divided into three phases, with the first part devoted to talks concerning the types of work an engineer does. This will be followed by a general discussion, during which the students will be divided into five groups, each headed by an engineer, giving the young people the opportunity to ask questions.

The program will conclude with a tour of the Research Center facilities and a final wrapup session at which additional questions will be answered.

In addition to Smith, research and development personnel taking part in the opening phase include K. P. Hass, supervisor-raw material research; Dr. G. W. Bush, supervisor - coated products research, and Dr. D. A. Chatfield, senior research metallurgist, who is the coordinator for the engineering seminar. The last three also will serve as group discussion leaders along with Arthur W. Marston and Michael G. Vucich, senior research engineers.

Students attending the seminar will be from six high schools and were selected by their teachers and guidance counselors on the basis of criteria established by the Battelle Memorial Institute.

High schools to be represented at the seminar include Weir High, Madonna, Oak Glen, Follansbee, Wellsburg and Bethany. Faculty members from each school will accompany the students.

The oldest hospital still in existence is the Hotel Dieu, in Paris, which dates back to about A. D. 650. The first hospital in America was founded in 1658 in the then Dutch city of New Amsterdam.

Congo Seeks U.N. Meeting On Invasion

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The government of the Congo has asked for a U.N. Security Council meeting to deal with an invasion by white and African soldiers from neighboring Portuguese Angola. Some U.N. diplomats expect the council to meet today.

Government sources in Kinshasa, the Congolese capital, said the invaders seized a train and some trucks and were bearing down on Lubumashi, formerly Elisabethville and the capital of Katanga Province. Unconfirmed reports said the troops had taken Jadotville, a fortified copper mining town about 100 miles from Lubumbashi.

Congolese troops were ordered to intercept the invading force, which diplomatic dispatches reaching the State Department said was made up of about 150 soldiers of fortune mustered in Angola.

Some observers believed the invasion's purpose was to relieve pressure on the force of about 130 white mercenaries, led by Col. Jean Schramme, and 950 Katangan soldiers allied with them who are besieged by 22,000 government troops at Bukavu, 600 miles north of Lubumbashi.

The mercenaries were reported to have suffered losses in a Congolese attack on their stronghold.

Schramme's men revolted in July against their employer, the Congo government, after Moise Tshombe, exiled former Congo premier and Katanga leader, was kidnaped from a plane and jailed in Algeria.

Reports of the invasion caused a stir among Asian and African delegates at the United Nations. They have repeatedly accused Portugal, which still rules three colonies in Africa, and other white governments of supporting Schramme's mercenaries.

There are more than 8,500 different species of birds in the world, these ranging in size from the tiny bee hummingbird of Cuba, which is 2½ inches long, and weighs about 1-10 ounce, to the ostrich of Africa, which is about seven feet tall and weighs at least 300 pounds.

Kiwanians Hear Reports On Key Club Convention

A report of the Key Club International convention at Louisville, Ky., in July was given by Key Club youths at the Kiwanis Club meeting Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Speaking yesterday were Dan DuPont, who had been a candidate for international trustee, Oliver Spencer, Rick Hunsicker and Ray Galloway all of East Liverpool, and Dick Blatchford and John Webber of Beaver Local.

Plans were announced for the club's fall pancake supper to be held Dec. 2 at Westgate School, with Tait Hilbert in charge.

Roy Cooper, president, announced the annual "Key Club Week" is being observed, saluting more than 86,000 members in 3,200 high schools.

The word "booze" is said to be an English adaptation or corruption of the Turkish word, "buzeh," which is used in Syria to include sherbets and similar iced drinks.

At Meeting In Lisbon

Changes In Cub Program Will Be Outlined Sunday

LISBON — Boy Scouts of America headquarters reports nearly five years of research and preparation are behind major changes in the Cub Scout program for boys 8, 9 and 10.

All den mothers in the Columbiana Council are invited to an afternoon and evening meeting on the new program Sunday at the American Legion Home on W. Lincoln Way.

Bennett D. Taylor Jr., council executive at Scout headquarters here, and Jack Hovis of Salem, council training chairman, will present highlights of the new program from 2 to 4 p.m.

Lunch will be served from 4 to 5 and a one - hour period for questions and answers will follow. Printed material on the new program will be dispayed. Tayor asks mothers planning to attend to notify the Boy Scout office immediately.

NEARLY 100 prospective Cubs showed interest when the program was outlined at a parents' orientation meeting last week at the first United Presbyterian Church in Salem.

increasing the program's natural appeal for boys and providing more help for volunteer leaders, Taylor said.

"An important finding of the national research," he added, "is that Cub scouting would continue to grow without any changes, but the improved program will hold the Cubs interest longer and 'graduate' more into Boy Scouting when they reach their 11th birthday."

Columbiana Council, including all of Columbiana County plus Chester and Newell, has 901 Cub Scouts in 29 packs.

The revisions are aimed at The improved program adopted nationwide this fall includes changes in requirements for achievements and electives for the wolf and bear ranks (8- and 9-year - olds, respectively), and introduces a new program —the Webelos — for the 10-year-olds. Any 10-year-old boy may join even if he has not been a Cub.

WEBELOS Scouts will work in 15 hobby and vocational subjects for activity badges. The subjects vary from aquatics and sports to technical fields like geology, forestry and engineering. The Webelos will have a distinctive uniform. In addition to attending weeky meetings, they wll make occasional hikes and one or two dad-and-son overnight camping trips each year.

A newly - created leadership position is that of den leader coach, usually a woman, to give new den mothers training and assistance. She can assist cubmasters in recruiting new den mothers.

Father Cited In Children's Poison Deaths

ARCADIA, Fla. (AP) — James Richardson was charged on a coroner's warrant Thursday night with first degree murder in the parathion poisoning of his seven small children.

Richardson, 31, was charged after a six-member coroner's jury ruled he and "other persons unknown" administered the parathion "feloniously, wilfully and of his malice aforethought and with premeditated design."

"I just say I'm not guilty," the 5-foot-9 fruit picker said after Sheriff Frank Cline read the charge to him.

Richardson, who had been in jail since Tuesday night on a technical charge of child neglect, was accused of putting the parathion—a deadly agricultural pesticide that affects the nervous system—on food eaten by his children Oct. 29.

The children—ranging in age from 2 to 8—became violently ill within minutes. Six of them died that afternoon, and the seventh died the next morning.

Testimony at the inquest indicated Richardson had attempted to purchase $1,000 double indemnity insurance policies on each of the children the night before they were stricken. The insurance agent, Gerald Purvis of Palmetto, testified Richardson may have interpreted his remarks to mean the insurance was effective at once although the initial $3.20 premium had not been paid.

The children's mother, Annie Mae, 29, remained in jail on a child neglect charge filed Tuesday. She and her husband were arrested after they submitted to lie detector tests.

50 Students Will Take Part In Seminar On Engineering

Fifty junior students from high schools in Hancock and Brooke Counties will be guests of the National Steel Research Center in Weirton Saturday for an engineering seminar.

E. J. Smith, director of research and development for the National Steel Corp., said the program will be conducted from 9 a.m. until noon to acquaint the students with the engineering profession.

He said the meeting will be divided into three phases, with the first part devoted to talks concerning the types of work an engineer does. This will be followed by a general discussion, during which the students will be divided into five groups, each headed by an engineer, giving the young people the opportunity to ask questions.

The program will conclude with a tour of the Research Center facilities and a final wrapup session at which additional questions will be answered.

In addition to Smith, research and development personnel taking part in the opening phase include K. P. Hass, supervisor-raw material research; Dr. G. W. Bush, supervisor - coated products research, and Dr. D. A. Chatfield, senior research metallurgist, who is the coordinator for the engineering seminar. The last three also will serve as group discussion leaders along with Arthur W. Marston and Michael G. Vucich, senior research engineers.

Students attending the seminar will be from six high schools and were selected by their teachers and guidance counselors on the basis of criteria established by the Battelle Memorial Institute.

High schools to be represented at the seminar include Weir High, Madonna, Oak Glen, Follansbee, Wellsburg and Bethany. Faculty members from each school will accompany the students.

The oldest hospital still in existence is the Hotel Dieu, in Paris, which dates back to about A. D. 650. The first hospital in America was founded in 1658 in the then Dutch city of New Amsterdam.

Congo Seeks U.N. Meeting On Invasion

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The government of the Congo has asked for a U.N. Security Council meeting to deal with an invasion by white and African soldiers from neighboring Portuguese Angola. Some U.N. diplomats expect the council to meet today.

Government sources in Kinshasa, the Congolese capital, said the invaders seized a train and some trucks and were bearing down on Lubumashi, formerly Elisabethville and the capital of Katanga Province. Unconfirmed reports said the troops had taken Jadotville, a fortified copper mining town about 100 miles from Lubumbashi.

Congolese troops were ordered to intercept the invading force, which diplomatic dispatches reaching the State Department said was made up of about 150 soldiers of fortune mustered in Angola.

Some observers believed the invasion's purpose was to relieve pressure on the force of about 130 white mercenaries, led by Col. Jean Schramme, and 950 Katangan soldiers allied with them who are besieged by 22,000 government troops at Bukavu, 600 miles north of Lubumbashi.

The mercenaries were reported to have suffered losses in a Congolese attack on their stronghold.

Schramme's men revolted in July against their employer, the Congo government, after Moise Tshombe, exiled former Congo premier and Katanga leader, was kidnaped from a plane and jailed in Algeria.

Reports of the invasion caused a stir among Asian and African delegates at the United Nations. They have repeatedly accused Portugal, which still rules three colonies in Africa, and other white governments of supporting Schramme's mercenaries.

There are more than 8,500 different species of birds in the world, these ranging in size from the tiny bee hummingbird of Cuba, which is 2½ inches long, and weighs about 1-10 ounce, to the ostrich of Africa, which is about seven feet tall and weighs at least 300 pounds.

Kiwanians Hear Reports On Key Club Convention

A report of the Key Club International convention at Louisville, Ky., in July was given by Key Club youths at the Kiwanis Club meeting Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Speaking yesterday were Dan DuPont, who had been a candidate for international trustee, Oliver Spencer, Rick Hunsicker and Ray Galloway all of East Liverpool, and Dick Blatchford and John Webber of Beaver Local.

Plans were announced for the club's fall pancake supper to be held Dec. 2 at Westgate School, with Tait Hilbert in charge.

Roy Cooper, president, announced the annual "Key Club Week" is being observed, saluting more than 86,000 members in 3,200 high schools.

The word "booze" is said to be an English adaptation or corruption of the Turkish word, "buzeh," which is used in Syria to include sherbets and similar iced drinks.

Camp Fire Group Advances Plans For Four More Clubs

Plans are being advanced for four new Horizon Clubs following the interest shown at the recent barbecue of Kinoka Council of Camp Fire Girls, Inc., at Echo Dell Camp.

The girls who were present and any others in the 9th through 12th grades interested in membership may call the Camp Fire office on Broadway relative to enrollment periods.

More than 200 girls from Beaver Local, Chester and East Liverpool High Schools attended the barbecue, which was prepared by Boy Scouts under the direction of Robert Bernstorf.

The buffet table was centered with a cake decorated in Camp Fire colors. Mrs. Dan Henderson made the Horizon Club emblems which completed the setting.

Mrs. Robert Schlang, mistress of ceremonies, introduced Jacquelyn Mayer, "Miss America of 1963," who reviewed her experiences in winning the title and as a Camp Fire girl.

Miss Polly Lease, "Miss Columbiana County," sang several numbers.

Following a talk by Miss E. Marie Stranaham of Youngstown, executive secretary of Camp Fire Girls, the girls were given an opportunity to sign up for membership.

A report of the recent regional conference at Grand Rapids was given by Betsy Welker and Colleen Fitzgerald.

An outline of the projected program of Horizon Clubs was given by Mrs. Schlang, who mentioned the forthcoming charm course, story - telling service, office aide course, program aides, little theater groups, candy stripers at hospitals and various trips and other social activities.

Guests were Mrs. Donald Lease of Salem, Mrs. Marvin Kinsey and Mrs. Carl Peschel.

The committee, headed by Mrs. Schlang, included Mrs. Larry Walton, president of Kinoka Council, Miss Beverly Couch, Mrs. Verna Stone, Mrs. Robert Bernstorf, Mrs. Harry Faulk, Mrs. Charles Lang, Mrs. Charles Keuper, Mrs. Janice Southall, Mrs. Paul Tobin and Mrs. Gay Billingsley.

Frank Ryan, despite all his injuries, is the 10th-ranked passer in the NFL. Ryan has hit on 80 of 172 for 1,315 yards and 15 TDs. Leroy Kelly of the Browns continues to lead the rushing statistics, with 584 yards in 113 attempts.

Gary Collins of the Browns is 10th in punting and Lou Groza 10th in scoring. Ben Davis is fourth in punt returns and Ross Fichtner fourth in interceptions.

Marv Woodsen of the Steelers lost his top spot in interceptions and dropped to third. Dick Compton of Pittsburgh is third in pass receiving and J. R. Wilburn is seventh. Don Shy and Paul Martha of the Steelers rank 7-8 in kickoff returns.

HOW WILL THE fact that Alex Hawkins of the Colts, former captain of their specialty teams until he was drafted by Atlanta a year ago (he came back to Baltimore after the Falcons released him) was arrested by police for gambling at 4:45 a.m. Wednesday affect the Colts' morale in their big game with the Packers Sunday? And what would former iron-fisted NFL commissioner Bert Bell have said when his son was arrested at the same poker party? The Colts said they might take disciplinary action against Hawkins, not for gambling, but for being out so late.

The Coastal Division (that's Baltimore, Atlanta, San Francisco and Los Angeles) of the NFL is the only one of the four divisions to post a winning record in inter-division play. It is 11-4-3 while the Century is 8-8, the Central 6-9-1 and the Capitol 6-10-2. The Century Division, supposed to be the weakest, has surprised some people.

Visiting teams have won 26 games, home teams 25 and there have been five ties in the NFL so far this season.

IT WAS A bad week statistically for Ohio College football teams. Only three teams, and one of them a small college, are mentioned in the NCAA weekly statistics. Toledo is fourth in pass defense and Miami is seventh in the same category. Wittenberg is fifth in passing offense. West Virginia is fifth in total defense and Western Michigan is ninth in punting.

Individually, Ohio school gridders do better, especially in rushing. Dick Conley of Ohio U. is 13th, Bill Waller of Xavier 15th, Al Moore of Miami 16th, Bill Mayo of Dayton 17th and Lloyd Pate of Cincinnati 19th.

John Schneider of Toledo is eighth in total offense and ninth in passing. Cleve Bryant of Ohio U. is 14th in total offense and Tom Sherman of Penn State is 19th. Dale Livingston of Western Michigan is fourth in punting. Roland Moss of Toledo is tied for fourth in scoring, Don Abbey of Penn State is 12th and Ken Juskowich of West Virginia is tied for 19th. Juskowich is tied for first in scoring by kicking. Bob Zimpfer of Bowling Green is fifth in punt returns, Ted Provost of Ohio State is third and Steve Bailey of Xavier is ninth in interception returns, and Conley of OU is sixth in kickoff returns. Mickey Depp of Pitt is eighth in kickoff returns and Marty Barski of Western Michigan is 12th in pass receiving.

WE'RE GLAD to see that the public, through the department of defense, has stopped subsidizing the national rifle championships at Camp Perry. Much better would be to subsidize the Olympic Games, which are of interest to more people and reflect our image abroad.

Thoughts Of Rose Bowl Scare Indiana's Pont

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Thoughts of the Rose Bowl sustain John McKay and Tommy Prothro in their hour of need, but even the mere mention of New Year's Day in Pasadena scares John Pont half to death.

McKay's Southern California squad face Pacific-8 foe California without superback O.J. Simpson Saturday, while Prothro's band from UCLA meets conference opponent Oregon State, which has shown a propensity for the upset effort in just such a big game.

In Big Ten action, Pont's seventh-ranked Indiana team goes for its seventh straight victory, against winless league member Wisconsin. Michigan State, Minnesota and Purdue loom ahead in the weeks to come, all of them potential barriers to the Rose Bowl.

"I don't even want to think about it," Pont said. "I'm going to have a heart attack as it is."

The Trojans, No. 1 in The Associated Press poll, lost Simpson, their most prolific runner, to a foot injury last week. Originally thought not to be serious, the ailment could keep him out for the rest of the season, although McKay hopes to get him back.

The Bruins, rated second, take on Oregon State, which has a 5-2 mark. One of those Beaver victories, however, was over Purdue, the conqueror of Notre Dame and rated second at the time.

Now ranked sixth with a 5-1 mark, the Boilermakers take on Illinois, 2-4, Saturday. Third-rated Tennessee, 4-1, meets Tampa, 1-4. North Carolina State, unbeaten in six games and ranked fourth, plays Virginia, 2-4.

Georgia, rated fifth with a 5-1 mark, takes on a rugged Houston squad, 4-2, and the Bulldogs will be without the services of three players—running back Brad Johnson, safety Jack Scott and tackle Wayne Byrd—who were suspended for a curfew violation.

Eighth-ranked Wyoming, 7-0, plays San Jose State, 1-4; ninth-rated Colorado, 5-1, meets Big Eight foe Oklahoma, 4-1, and Notre Dame, No. 10 and 4-2 faces Navy, 4-2.

Maple Leafs Murder Even Minus Mahovlich

By The Associated Press

Frank Mahovlich, the big man in the Toronto Maple Leafs' attack, has been grounded again by a mysterious illness.

His teammates never have been healthier.

The Maple Leafs, playing without ailing Mahovlich, trampled the Detroit Red Wings 9-3 Thursday night for their fourth National Hockey League victory in the last five starts.

Mahovlich, the club's leading scorer, was left behind in a Toronto hospital—reportedly suffering from depression and tension—when the Leafs traveled to Detroit following Wednesday night's 5-0 victory over Montreal.

But rookie Wayne Carleton, filling in for the Big M, picked up a goal and two assists while George Armstrong and Brian Conacher each tallied twice as Toronto halted the Red Wings' four-game winning string with the biggest scoring spree of the young season.

Hancock County Rivals At Newell

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Aside from East Liverpool and Cleveland St. Joseph's tonight, there are 10 games this weekend in the area, with Weirton and Oak Glen heading the group.

Also tonight Midland travels to Freedom, Beaver Local is at Toronto, Lisbon is at Columbiana in the Tri-County League showdown, East Palestine entertains Carrollton, Leetonia visits Sebring and Stanton Local is on the road at Jefferson Union. Tomorrow afternoon South Side Beaver hosts Center Twp. and tomorrow night Verona faces Western Beaver at Midland and Southern Local is at United.

In the short history of Oak Glen High school Weirton has become its traditional rival. Two years ago the Golden Bears won 13-12 and last season Weirton came out on top 19-6. This year Weirton won its first seven games in a row before falling last week to Ohio's number one team, Steubenville Big Red, 32-19. Weirton outgained Steubenville by 265-253 and were driving for a winning touchdown when an interception was returned for a score in the last minute.

Weirton is led by its touchdown twins, quarterback Leon Jenkins and halfback Lawrence Fernandez. Jenkins has scored 13 TDs and 12 extra points for 90 points and Fernandez 12 TDs for 72 points. They rank 2-3 in the Ohio Valley Athletic Conference. The best Oak Glen scorer is Alan Six with 3 touchdowns. Jenkins and Fernandez are 4-5 in OVAC rushing with 738 and 521 yards. Six is 11th with 413 yards. Fullback Charles Jennings of the Red Riders has gained 301 yards. Jenkins and Fernandez are both past OVAC backs of the week. Fernandez was injured against Steubenville but is reported ready to go. Coach Carl Fodor says he doesn't think Weirton will let down against Oak Glen after the big tussle with Steubenville.

Bob Starkey's club is 2-5-1 in an up-and-down year. Steve Logston, playing at quarterback in place of the injured Craig Whittington, set a school record with 17 completions in 25 attempts in the 13-13 tie at Allegany, Md. last week.

Midland, 2-4-2, will close out the season tomorrow night at Freedom a bit short - handed. Halfback Greg Braund is out with a broken arm and Pete McDonald is out with a sprained foot, both injuries suffered in the loss to New Brighton. Frank Granito is a doubtful starter because of a dislocated shoulder.

Jack Campbell will be at quarterback, Dave Vanlier and Anthony Williams at halfbacks and Howard Leak at fullback. Larry Smith and Bob Needs will be the ends, Paul Francis and Bill Love the tackles, Don Epley and Chuck McShane the guards and Barney Newman the center.

Coach Joe Hamilton brushes aside Freedom's 1-7 record, pointing out that they beat Rochester 6-0 while Rochester tied Midland. The Bulldogs lost to Seneca Valley 31-20, Monaca 31-7, New Brighton 47-0, Burgettstown 21-19, Beaver 25-0, Hopewell 41-7 and Braddock 32-6. Hamilton says that Freedom had numerous injuries earlier in the year but the team is sound now. He fears quarterbacks John Malagise and Tom Saunders III, the son of coach Tom Saunders Jr. "Freedom is a big team, and they try to run over top of you", Hamilton notes.

Beaver Local, 4-4 and a winner last week with Bruce Diddle in his first game at quarterback, faces a tough opponent at Toronto. The Red Knights are 4-3, having beaten Springfield Local 34-20, Weirton Madonna 21-0, Jefferson Union 22-6, and Mingo Jt. 26-6. Losses came to Wellsburg 13-7, Follansbee 26-6 last week and unbeaten Wintersville 29-14. Quarterback for Ralph Anastasio's team is Nick Lukacena, with Jeff Jones playing sometimes. Halfbacks will be Bill Fisher and Howard Haught and Bob Anderson will be the fullback. Veteran halfback Jim Stone was injured against Follansbee and won't play.

The line is big, led by tackles Dan Swickard, 230, and Dave Miller, 260. Guards are Chuck Walker, 190, and Dan Mosti, 165. Jim Hinch, 185, is the center and ends are Jay Pope, 210 and Mike Pillar, 175. All starters are seniors except Pope, a sophomore and Anderson, a junior. John Pape, former Chester High gridder and Beaver Local coach, is an assistant grid coach and head basketball coach at Toronto. The Red Knights are mostly a running team.

Beaver Local beat Springfield Local 14-0 and Jefferson Union 12-6 in games against common opponents. The Beavers also beat Southern Local and United while losing to Columbiana, Leetonia, East Palestine and Lisbon. Dan Myers is the top runner for Don Ross' team.

Both Columbiana, 8-0, and Lisbon, 7-1, are reported in top shape for their battle for the Tri - County League title. Lisbon's lone loss was to Minerva, 32-0, which has also lost only one league game, 27-0 to the Clippers. Columbiana is the fifth - ranked Class A team in the state in both polls, while Lisbon is 31st in the AP poll.

East Palestine, which gets Columbiana next week, hosts Carrollton, a non - league foe, this week. The Bulldogs are 5-3. Leetonia, 4-4, is only 1-4 in Tri-County play, but is expected to handle Sebring, 2-6. The Bears have lost four in a row after a fine start. Sebring has beaten only United, 8-0 and Poland, 6-0, while losing to Champion, Louisville, East Palestine, Lisbon, Columbiana and Minerva. Leetonia beat United, Beaver Local, Springfield Local and East Palestine before falling to Minerva, Columbiana, Poland and Lisbon.

Stanton Local, 5-2, is favored over Jefferson Local, which lost to Beaver Local and Toronto, but beat Southern Local 24-0. Stanton Local upset highly-regarded Brilliant 42-36 in a wild game last week. The Red Raiders also beat Hopedale, Southern Local, Adena and Springfield Local while losing to Mt. Pleasant and Wayne. Elmer Tice is the top runner and scorer for Ken Wood' team, while Jack Olesky has come fast at quarterback.

South Side seeks the Class B championship of Beaver County in its game with Center Twp. The Trojans are 2-5, losing their last five contests to Avalon 19-0, Quaker Valley 13-7, Western Beaver 19-13, Seneca Valley 39-0 and Crafton 25-0 after wins over Mars 13-0 and Sharpsburg 35-14. South Side, 4-4, lost to Avalon 12-0 and edged Western Beaver 13-12 in common opponents. If Center should win, the two teams will share the title, along with Western Beaver. Both Western and South Side close the season tomorrow and both need wins for winning seasons, both of which would be the first in the history of the schools.

Southern Local, 2-5, hopes to end a three-game losing streak at United, 1-7. The Indians have beaten Springfield Local (Jefferson) and Greenford, while losing to Lisbon, Stanton Local, Crestview, Jefferson Union and Beaver Local. The Golden Eagles lone win was over Springfield Local (Mahoning) while losses have come to Leetonia, Sebring, East Canton, Beaver Local, West Branch, Crestview and Columbiana.

Dropped From Squad

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Tennessee football Coach Doug Dickey said Thursday that Tod Denny, a 210-pound sophomore center from Wintersville, Ohio, has been dropped from the squad for disciplintry reasons. He was second-string center.

Colts, Rams, Cards, Steelers Picks

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Picking against Green Bay is akin to attacking motherhood, burning the flag and wearing an orange tie on St. Patrick's Day. But the old Hand-picker is going to try it again with Baltimore after failing with St. Louis.

The Cardinals did give the Packers a real scare and the New York Giants did upset the Cleveland Browns. Unfortunately for the average, similar upsets by the Detroit Lions, Atlanta Falcons and Philadelphia Eagles were not predicted.

After an 8-4 weekend, thanks to a sweep in the AFL, the batting average for the year is 56-20-7 (37-14-5 in the NFL and 19-6-2 in the AFL). Let's give it another whirl. All games this week are Sunday afternoon.

Baltimore 24, Green Bay 20—A wild, wild day in Baltimore with the unbeaten Colts very much aware they have lost five straight to Green Bay. The Packers had a rugged night in St. Louis Monday and must carry a few bruises into this big one. Lionel Aldredge may be out. Johnny Unitas vs. Bart Starr and what more could you ask? Colts have big air punch but no ground game. Packers tops in defense. Lou Michaels or Don Chandler decide it with a field goal.

Los Angeles 28, San Francisco 17—Forget that rout of the 49ers by the Lions last week. San Francisco beat the Rams 27-24 in Oct. 8 meeting with a John Brodie-Sonny Randle pass. Rams didn't get to Brodie once but that Fearsome Foursome is geared for the big push. Rams must win to stay in there with Baltimore in Coastal Division. And they can run on 49ers with Dick Bass and Les Josephson.

New York 31, Minnesota 27—Now the Vikings find out how the other half lives, chasing Fran Tarkenton. Giants running hot hand on offense. Porous defense should hold up before Minnesota's sputtering attack. Giants won preseason game 21-3 but never have beaten Vikings in regular season.

Dallas 28, Atlanta 17—Return of Don Meredith just what was needed to revive sagging attack. Falcons riding on pink cloud after first victory of season and could be dangerous with new battery of Randy Johnson and Tommy McDonald, if they can keep Cowboys off Randy's neck.

St. Louis 27, Washington 21—Scared to death of this one. Cards may be down after losing that big effort to Packers Monday night. Jim Hart, Dave Williams, Johnny Roland and Jim Bakken must be in top form to outscore Sonny Jurgensen's arm with Charley Taylor back in action. Defense gives Cards edge in tight fit.

Pittsburgh 24, Cleveland 17—Yeah, an upset especially if Frank Ryan can't play or has trouble throwing with that sore arm. Steelers still have a chance in jungle of Century Division and have defense to handle Browns' running game. Browns won first game 21-10, Oct. 7.

Detroit 21, Chicago 10—Despite the usual guessing game about Gale Sayers' availability. Bears beat Lions 14-3 at Chicago Oct. 15 when Sayers ran for 142 yards in the rain. Karl Sweetan seems to have found touch to ignite Lions' offense in ramble over 49ers.

Philadelphia 31, New Orleans 14—Unpredictable Eagles ride up and down on a seesaw from week to week. Strictly on last week's inspired effort against Cowboys, we'll take Eagles but they had better not let down because Gary Cuozzo has Saints marching.

Kansas City 24, New York 21—Doubt about Joe Namath's condition makes this a real puzzle. Chiefs' Len Dawson hit the targets last week against staggering Denver team but the Chiefs are hurting physically. Jets can't do it without Namath despite running of Emerson Boozer. Chiefs won preseason game 30-17.

Oakland 35, Denver 14—Raiders rode into lead in the Western Division by manhandling San Diego 51-10 and don't figure to be upset by team they bombed 51-0 on Sept. 10. Things so tough in Denver that Lou Saban may go with rookie Jim Leclair at quarterback. Home field may help Broncos.

Houston 21, Boston 17—An upset. Patriots slight favorites because Oilers' offense is weak. Houston defense should contain Boston whether it's Babe Parilli or ex-Oiler Don Trull. Runbacks and interceptions big part of Oiler offense.

Buffalo 21, Miami 7—Bills hurting with Harry Jacobs out for year. Miami coming off bye and five-game losing streak with Bob Griese likely quarterback. But Buffalo should sneak home despite 10-7 preseason loss.

San Diego has the bye this week.

Bob Starkey's club is 2-5-1 in an up-and-down year. Steve Logston, playing at quarterback in place of the injured Craig Whittington, set a school record with 17 completions in 25 attempts in the 13-13 tie at Allegany, Md. last week.

Midland, 2-4-2, will close out the season tomorrow night at Freedom a bit short - handed. Halfback Greg Braund is out with a broken arm and Pete McDonald is out with a sprained foot, both injuries suffered in the loss to New Brighton. Frank Granito is a doubtful starter because of a dislocated shoulder.

Jack Campbell will be at quarterback, Dave Vanlier and Anthony Williams at halfbacks and Howard Leak at fullback. Larry Smith and Bob Needs will be the ends, Paul Francis and Bill Love the tackles, Don Epley and Chuck McShane the guards and Barney Newman the center.

Coach Joe Hamilton brushes aside Freedom's 1-7 record, pointing out that they beat Rochester 6-0 while Rochester tied Midland. The Bulldogs lost to Seneca Valley 31-20, Monaca 31-7, New Brighton 47-0, Burgettstown 21-19, Beaver 25-0, Hopewell 41-7 and Braddock 32-6. Hamilton says that Freedom had numerous injuries earlier in the year but the team is sound now. He fears quarterbacks John Malagise and Tom Saunders III, the son of coach Tom Saunders Jr. "Freedom is a big team, and they try to run over top of you", Hamilton notes.

Beaver Local, 4-4 and a winner last week with Bruce Diddle in his first game at quarterback, faces a tough opponent at Toronto. The Red Knights are 4-3, having beaten Springfield Local 34-20, Weirton Madonna 21-0, Jefferson Union 22-6, and Mingo Jt. 26-6. Losses came to Wellsburg 13-7, Follansbee 26-6 last week and unbeaten Wintersville 29-14. Quarterback for Ralph Anastasio's team is Nick Lukacena, with Jeff Jones playing sometimes. Halfbacks will be Bill Fisher and Howard Haught and Bob Anderson will be the fullback. Veteran halfback Jim Stone was injured against Follansbee and won't play.

The line is big, led by tackles Dan Swickard, 230, and Dave Miller, 260. Guards are Chuck Walker, 190, and Dan Mosti, 165. Jim Hinch, 185, is the center and ends are Jay Pope, 210 and Mike Pillar, 175. All starters are seniors except Pope, a sophomore and Anderson, a junior. John Pape, former Chester High gridder and Beaver Local coach, is an assistant grid coach and head basketball coach at Toronto. The Red Knights are mostly a running team.

Beaver Local beat Springfield Local 14-0 and Jefferson Union 12-6 in games against common opponents. The Beavers also beat Southern Local and United while losing to Columbiana, Leetonia, East Palestine and Lisbon. Dan Myers is the top runner for Don Ross' team.

Both Columbiana, 8-0, and Lisbon, 7-1, are reported in top shape for their battle for the Tri - County League title. Lisbon's lone loss was to Minerva, 32-0, which has also lost only one league game, 27-0 to the Clippers. Columbiana is the fifth - ranked Class A team in the state in both polls, while Lisbon is 31st in the AP poll.

East Palestine, which gets Columbiana next week, hosts Carrollton, a non - league foe, this week. The Bulldogs are 5-3. Leetonia, 4-4, is only 1-4 in Tri-County play, but is expected to handle Sebring, 2-6. The Bears have lost four in a row after a fine start. Sebring has beaten only United, 8-0 and Poland, 6-0, while losing to Champion, Louisville, East Palestine, Lisbon, Columbiana and Minerva. Leetonia beat United, Beaver Local, Springfield Local and East Palestine before falling to Minerva, Columbiana, Poland and Lisbon.

Stanton Local, 5-2, is favored over Jefferson Local, which lost to Beaver Local and Toronto, but beat Southern Local 24-0. Stanton Local upset highly-regarded Brilliant 42-36 in a wild game last week. The Red Raiders also beat Hopedale, Southern Local, Adena and Springfield Local while losing to Mt. Pleasant and Wayne. Elmer Tice is the top runner and scorer for Ken Wood' team, while Jack Olesky has come fast at quarterback.

South Side seeks the Class B championship of Beaver County in its game with Center Twp. The Trojans are 2-5, losing their last five contests to Avalon 19-0, Quaker Valley 13-7, Western Beaver 19-13, Seneca Valley 39-0 and Crafton 25-0 after wins over Mars 13-0 and Sharpsburg 35-14. South Side, 4-4, lost to Avalon 12-0 and edged Western Beaver 13-12 in common opponents. If Center should win, the two teams will share the title, along with Western Beaver. Both Western and South Side close the season tomorrow and both need wins for winning seasons, both of which would be the first in the history of the schools.

Southern Local, 2-5, hopes to end a three-game losing streak at United, 1-7. The Indians have beaten Springfield Local (Jefferson) and Greenford, while losing to Lisbon, Stanton Local, Crestview, Jefferson Union and Beaver Local. The Golden Eagles lone win was over Springfield Local (Mahoning) while losses have come to Leetonia, Sebring, East Canton, Beaver Local, West Branch, Crestview and Columbiana.

Dropped From Squad

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Tennessee football Coach Doug Dickey said Thursday that Tod Denny, a 210-pound sophomore center from Wintersville, Ohio, has been dropped from the squad for disciplintry reasons. He was second-string center.

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Picking against Green Bay is akin to attacking motherhood, burning the flag and wearing an orange tie on St. Patrick's Day. But the old Hand-picker is going to try it again with Baltimore after failing with St. Louis.

The Cardinals did give the Packers a real scare and the New York Giants did upset the Cleveland Browns. Unfortunately for the average, similar upsets by the Detroit Lions, Atlanta Falcons and Philadelphia Eagles were not predicted.

After an 8-4 weekend, thanks to a sweep in the AFL, the batting average for the year is 56-20-7 (37-14-5 in the NFL and 19-6-2 in the AFL). Let's give it another whirl. All games this week are Sunday afternoon.

Baltimore 24, Green Bay 20—A wild, wild day in Baltimore with the unbeaten Colts very much aware they have lost five straight to Green Bay. The Packers had a rugged night in St. Louis Monday and must carry a few bruises into this big one. Lionel Aldredge may be out. Johnny Unitas vs. Bart Starr and what more could you ask? Colts have big air punch but no ground game. Packers tops in defense. Lou Michaels or Don Chandler decide it with a field goal.

Los Angeles 28, San Francisco 17—Forget that rout of the 49ers by the Lions last week. San Francisco beat the Rams 27-24 in Oct. 8 meeting with a John Brodie-Sonny Randle pass. Rams didn't get to Brodie once but that Fearsome Foursome is geared for the big push. Rams must win to stay in there with Baltimore in Coastal Division. And they can run on 49ers with Dick Bass and Les Josephson.

New York 31, Minnesota 27—Now the Vikings find out how the other half lives, chasing Fran Tarkenton. Giants running hot hand on offense. Porous defense should hold up before Minnesota's sputtering attack. Giants won preseason game 21-3 but never have beaten Vikings in regular season.

Dallas 28, Atlanta 17—Return of Don Meredith just what was needed to revive sagging attack. Falcons riding on pink cloud after first victory of season and could be dangerous with new battery of Randy Johnson and Tommy McDonald, if they can keep Cowboys off Randy's neck.

St. Louis 27, Washington 21—Scared to death of this one. Cards may be down after losing that big effort to Packers Monday night. Jim Hart, Dave Williams, Johnny Roland and Jim Bakken must be in top form to outscore Sonny Jurgensen's arm with Charley Taylor back in action. Defense gives Cards edge in tight fit.

Pittsburgh 24, Cleveland 17—Yeah, an upset especially if Frank Ryan can't play or has trouble throwing with that sore arm. Steelers still have a chance in jungle of Century Division and have defense to handle Browns' running game. Browns won first game 21-10, Oct. 7.

Detroit 21, Chicago 10—Despite the usual guessing game about Gale Sayers' availability. Bears beat Lions 14-3 at Chicago Oct. 15 when Sayers ran for 142 yards in the rain. Karl Sweetan seems to have found touch to ignite Lions' offense in ramble over 49ers.

Philadelphia 31, New Orleans 14—Unpredictable Eagles ride up and down on a seesaw from week to week. Strictly on last week's inspired effort against Cowboys, we'll take Eagles but they had better not let down because Gary Cuozzo has Saints marching.

Kansas City 24, New York 21—Doubt about Joe Namath's condition makes this a real puzzle. Chiefs' Len Dawson hit the targets last week against staggering Denver team but the Chiefs are hurting physically. Jets can't do it without Namath despite running of Emerson Boozer. Chiefs won preseason game 30-17.

Oakland 35, Denver 14—Raiders rode into lead in the Western Division by manhandling San Diego 51-10 and don't figure to be upset by team they bombed 51-0 on Sept. 10. Things so tough in Denver that Lou Saban may go with rookie Jim Leclair at quarterback. Home field may help Broncos.

Houston 21, Boston 17—An upset. Patriots slight favorites because Oilers' offense is weak. Houston defense should contain Boston whether it's Babe Parilli or ex-Oiler Don Trull. Runbacks and interceptions big part of Oiler offense.

Buffalo 21, Miami 7—Bills hurting with Harry Jacobs out for year. Miami coming off bye and five-game losing streak with Bob Griese likely quarterback. But Buffalo should sneak home despite 10-7 preseason loss.

San Diego has the bye this week.

Crestview Wins 64-0 Over Hapless Greenford

Crestview only gained 280 yards in total offense, but it took advantage of every break to smother winless Greenford 64-0 at Crestview last night.

Randy McBride led the scoring with three TDs and two conversions. Chip McConville added two scores, as did Jim Wilson.

Bulls Take First Game; Williams Leads Piper Win

By The Associated Press

The Chicago Bulls finally have won their first game in the National Basketball Association this season after nine straight defeats. They beat Seattle 119-105 Thursday night in the only NBA game scheduled.

New Orleans whipped New Jersey 141-117, Minnesota beat Indiana 109-84 and Pittsburgh defeated Oakland 111-107 in the American Basketball Association.

Boozer finished with 29 points. Sloan, who hit for four baskets in the closing minutes, tallied 18. Rookie Bob Rule led the Supersonics with 27 points.

Playing at home, New Orleans took a slim five-point lead into the second quarter against New Jersey and then brought Jesse Branson off the bench.

By the time the half ended, New Orleans led 71-53 and Branson had scored 20 points. Branson, 6-foot-6 from Elon College in North Carolina, finished with 30 points.

Les Hunter's 29 points led the Muskies to their home court victory. The former Chicago Loyola star helped build a three-point first-quarter lead to a 53-40 halftime bulge. Mel Daniels scored 19 points for Minnesota and Roger Brown scored 27 for the Pacers.

Pittsburgh beat Oakland on the road, helped by five points in the last minute. Charlie Williams led the Pipers with 28 points. Lavern Tart paced the Oaks with 35, including 20 in the second half.

NL Officials Slate Meeting On Expansion

CINCINNATI (AP)—National League officials will hold a special meeting in Chicago Nov. 13 to discuss possible National League expansion, Warren Giles said here Thursday.

Giles, president of the National League, said he felt the officials should meet prior to a meeting of both leagues which Commissioner William Eckert will call for sometime between Nov. 28-Dec. 2.

The American League already has announced an expansion plan.

AL Cy Young Award Won By Boston's Jim Lonborg

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Lonborg, whose 22 victories helped the Boston Red Sox capture their first American League pennant in 21 years, was named winner today of the Cy Young Award as the circuit's outstanding pitcher.

This is the first year that one pitcher representing each league has been honored by the baseball writers. Mike McCormick, veteran left-hander of the San Francisco Giants, was chosen the National League's top pitcher earlier this week. The Young Award was originated in 1956.

Lonborg lost only nine games while tying Detroit's Earl Wilson for most AL victories. He also paced the circuit in strikeouts with 246 and walked only 83 batters in 273 innings. His earned run average was 3.16.

"I'm pleased, but I'm not surprised," Lonborg said in San Luis Obispo when he learned of the award.

Lonborg's most notable triumph was achieved on the final day of the season when he pitched a seven-hitter in defeating Minnesota 5-3. The victory coupled with Detroit's loss to California in the second game of a doubleheader enabled the Red Sox to clinch first place.

A 6-foot-6, 195-pound native of Santa Maria, Calif., Lonborg joined the Red Sox in 1965 after spending two years in the minors, one with Winston-Salem of the Carolina League and the other with Seattle of the Pacific Coast League. He posted a 9-17 record for Boston in 1965 and was 10-10 in 1966.

Horlen won 19 games and lost seven for the fourth-place White Sox. Among his victories was a no-run, no-hit game against Detroit on Sept. 10. He led the AL in ERA with 2.06, struck out 103 batters and walked 53.

CUMBERLAND, Md. (AP) — Carl Yastrzemski, the slugging star of the Boston Red Sox, negotiated a record $224,000 contract last month, the Cumberland Times said today.

In Boston, owner Tom Yawkey was not available for comment and a Red Sox spokesman said Yastrzemski was on vacation in Puerto Rico.

Parrish Urging NFL Players To Set Union

CLEVELAND (AP) — Bernie Parrish, a former defensive back with the Cleveland Browns, is asking National Football League players to join in organizing a union which would be affiliated with the teamsters.

Parrish said Thursday night he is sending to all NFL players a copy of a 16-page document attacking NFL owners and the NFL Players Association and proposing formation of a union to be called the American Federation of Professional Athletes.

Vitriolic Laurel Race Favorite

Also at stake will be the $112,183 winner's share of the purse. With six starters, only two owners will wind up with no cash and even the fourth-place finisher will earn $8,629.

Both Ogden Phipp's Vitriolic and Bwamazon Farm's T. V. Commercial won separate divisions of the Futurity trial and the Arlington-Washington Park Futurity this summer. Since then, Vitriolic has won the Champagne Stakes and T. V. Commercial the Breeders Futurity.

Wheatley Stable's What A Pleasure and Vitriolic, both trained by Eddie Neloy, will run as an entry in the Pimlico-Laurel Futurity as the juveniles go 1 1-16 miles for the first time.

The rest of the field includes North Star Ranch's Gin-Rob, the probable third choice off his victory in the Arch Ward Stakes; Harbor View Farm's Family Fun, and Deanne Lindstrom's Frosty Dear.

Vitriolic, a son of Bold Ruler, has won $319,000 and T. V. Commercial, a T. V. Lark colt, has a bankroll of $190,000. Each has won five stakes.

Neloy describes the winning efforts of both colts in their two Chicago outings as "equally impressive." But Tony Basile, the former jockey who trains T. V. Commercial, points out that his colt posted the better time on each occasion.

Basile will have to hunt for a new rider to replace Manuel Ycaza, who has drawn a five-day suspension at Garden State Park which will knock him out of the possible rich payoff at Laurel Saturday.

Weiskopf Leads Golf In Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP) — "Those sand traps killed me," said Arnold Palmer. The Hawaiian trade winds killed a bunch more.

Weiskopf, 6-3 and 175 pounds, posted a steady — "Nothing spectacular," he said—68 four under par for the Waialae course which etches along a Pacific reef.

That gave him the first round lead in this $100,000 tournament, over two fellows hardly anyone had heard of, Jim Grant and John Felus, who had 69s.

Grant, a recent graduate of the PGA school, is in his second tournament. Felus, smallest player in the field at 5-4, has been around a little longer but has never won more than $900.

Palmer, who took most of the gallery of about 8,000 with him around the tropical course — which had a rainbow arched over the back nine all afternoon —had an even par 72 that he said "should have been a 68."

The brisk trade winds blew scores into the high 70s for some of the best known players.

Bob Toledo Nears TD Pass Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Toledo of San Francisco State has moved to within one of the all-time college record for touchdown passes while retaining his lead in total offense among the nation's small-college football players.

The latest statistics compiled by National Collegiate Sports Services revealed today that Toledo is No. 1 in total offense with 2,224 yards, 91 more than runner-up Rich Lichtel of Boomsburg, Pa.

Toledo's four touchdown passes against Sacramento State last weekend increased his total for the campaign to 31. The record of 32 is shared by Jerry Rhome of Tulsa and Goerge Bork of Northern Illinois. Bork set the mark in 1963 and Rhome tied it in 1964.

Lichtel has the most pass completions. 153. Then comes Joe Stetser of Chico State with 141 and Toledo, 138.

Doug Van Boven of Central, Iowa, is a double pacesetter. He leads in rushing with 1,145 yards and in scoring with 96 points.

In the team categories, Waynesburg leads in total offense with a 488.1 yard average, and in scoring with a 60.3 point average for seven games. Tennessee State is No. 1 in total defense with an average yield of only 72.3 yards for six games.

Bulls Take First Game; Williams Leads Piper Win

By The Associated Press

The Chicago Bulls finally have won their first game in the National Basketball Association this season after nine straight defeats. They beat Seattle 119-105 Thursday night in the only NBA game scheduled.

New Orleans whipped New Jersey 141-117, Minnesota beat Indiana 109-84 and Pittsburgh defeated Oakland 111-107 in the American Basketball Association.

Boozer finished with 29 points. Sloan, who hit for four baskets in the closing minutes, tallied 18. Rookie Bob Rule led the Supersonics with 27 points.

Playing at home, New Orleans took a slim five-point lead into the second quarter against New Jersey and then brought Jesse Branson off the bench.

By the time the half ended, New Orleans led 71-53 and Branson had scored 20 points. Branson, 6-foot-6 from Elon College in North Carolina, finished with 30 points.

Les Hunter's 29 points led the Muskies to their home court victory. The former Chicago Loyola star helped build a three-point first-quarter lead to a 53-40 halftime bulge. Mel Daniels scored 19 points for Minnesota and Roger Brown scored 27 for the Pacers.

Pittsburgh beat Oakland on the road, helped by five points in the last minute. Charlie Williams led the Pipers with 28 points. Lavern Tart paced the Oaks with 35, including 20 in the second half.

NL Officials Slate Meeting On Expansion

CINCINNATI (AP)—National League officials will hold a special meeting in Chicago Nov. 13 to discuss possible National League expansion, Warren Giles said here Thursday.

Giles, president of the National League, said he felt the officials should meet prior to a meeting of both leagues which Commissioner William Eckert will call for sometime between Nov. 28-Dec. 2.

The American League already has announced an expansion plan.

AL Cy Young Award Won By Boston's Jim Lonborg

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Lonborg, whose 22 victories helped the Boston Red Sox capture their first American League pennant in 21 years, was named winner today of the Cy Young Award as the circuit's outstanding pitcher.

This is the first year that one pitcher representing each league has been honored by the baseball writers. Mike McCormick, veteran left-hander of the San Francisco Giants, was chosen the National League's top pitcher earlier this week. The Young Award was originated in 1956.

Lonborg lost only nine games while tying Detroit's Earl Wilson for most AL victories. He also paced the circuit in strikeouts with 246 and walked only 83 batters in 273 innings. His earned run average was 3.16.

"I'm pleased, but I'm not surprised," Lonborg said in San Luis Obispo when he learned of the award.

Lonborg's most notable triumph was achieved on the final day of the season when he pitched a seven-hitter in defeating Minnesota 5-3. The victory coupled with Detroit's loss to California in the second game of a doubleheader enabled the Red Sox to clinch first place.

A 6-foot-6, 195-pound native of Santa Maria, Calif., Lonborg joined the Red Sox in 1965 after spending two years in the minors, one with Winston-Salem of the Carolina League and the other with Seattle of the Pacific Coast League. He posted a 9-17 record for Boston in 1965 and was 10-10 in 1966.

Horlen won 19 games and lost seven for the fourth-place White Sox. Among his victories was a no-run, no-hit game against Detroit on Sept. 10. He led the AL in ERA with 2.06, struck out 103 batters and walked 53.

Vitriolic Laurel Race Favorite

Also at stake will be the $112,183 winner's share of the purse. With six starters, only two owners will wind up with no cash and even the fourth-place finisher will earn $8,629.

Both Ogden Phipp's Vitriolic and Bwamazon Farm's T. V. Commercial won separate divisions of the Futurity trial and the Arlington-Washington Park Futurity this summer. Since then, Vitriolic has won the Champagne Stakes and T. V. Commercial the Breeders Futurity.

Wheatley Stable's What A Pleasure and Vitriolic, both trained by Eddie Neloy, will run as an entry in the Pimlico-Laurel Futurity as the juveniles go 1 1-16 miles for the first time.

The rest of the field includes North Star Ranch's Gin-Rob, the probable third choice off his victory in the Arch Ward Stakes; Harbor View Farm's Family Fun, and Deanne Lindstrom's Frosty Dear.

Vitriolic, a son of Bold Ruler, has won $319,000 and T. V. Commercial, a T. V. Lark colt, has a bankroll of $190,000. Each has won five stakes.

Neloy describes the winning efforts of both colts in their two Chicago outings as "equally impressive." But Tony Basile, the former jockey who trains T. V. Commercial, points out that his colt posted the better time on each occasion.

Basile will have to hunt for a new rider to replace Manuel Ycaza, who has drawn a five-day suspension at Garden State Park which will knock him out of the possible rich payoff at Laurel Saturday.

Weiskopf Leads Golf In Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP) — "Those sand traps killed me," said Arnold Palmer. The Hawaiian trade winds killed a bunch more.

Weiskopf, 6-3 and 175 pounds, posted a steady — 'Nothing spectacular," he said—63 four under par for the Waialae course which etches along a Pacific reef.

That gave him the first round lead in this $100,000 tournament, over two fellows hardly anyone had heard of, Jim Grant and John Felus, who had 69s.

Grant, a recent graduate of the PGA school, is in his second tournament. Felus, smallest player in the field at 5-4, has been around a little longer but has never won more than $900.

Palmer, who took most of the gallery of about 8,000 with him around the tropical course — which had a rainbow arched over the back nine all afternoon —had an even par 72 that he said "should have been a 68."

Bob Toledo Nears TD Pass Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Toledo of San Francisco State has moved to within one of the all-time college record for touchdown passes while retaining his lead in total offense among the nation's small-college football players.

The latest statistics compiled by National Collegiate Sports Services revealed today that Toledo is No. 1 in total offense with 2,224 yards, 91 more than runner-up Rich Lichtel of Boomsburg, Pa.

Toledo's four touchdown passes against Sacramento State last weekend increased his total for the campaign to 31. The record of 32 is shared by Jerry Rhome of Tulsa and Goerge Bork of Northern Illinois. Bork set the mark in 1963 and Rhome tied it in 1964.

Lichtel has the most pass completions, 153. Then comes Joe Stetser of Chico State with 141 and Toledo, 138.

Doug Van Boven of Central, Iowa, is a double pacesetter. He leads in rushing with 1,145 yards and in scoring with 96 points.

In the team categories, Waynesburg leads in total offense with a 488.1 yard average, and in scoring with a 60.3 point average for seven games. Tennessee State is No. 1 in total defense with an average yield of only 72.3 yards for six games.

College Trustees Meet Demands Of Campus Workers

WILBERFORCE, Ohio (AP) — Nonacademic employes at Central State University were granted pay raises and other demands Thursday, hours before threatened undisclosed action against the school.

The Board of Trustees, at a regular meeting, approved a 10 per cent pay increase, paid hospitalization and life insurance, free parking, free meals for cafeteria workers and grievance procedures, plus payroll checkoff of union dues.

About 200 nonteaching employes had set a deadline and said if their demands were not met, they would take "positive action." They are members of Local 361, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes.

The union got support Wednesday from 300 students who demonstrated in support of the employes. The students staged a sit-in in the administration building trapping President Harry E. Groves and other university officials in their offices for three hours.

The trustees said 5 per cent of the pay hike had previously been planned. The other 5 per cent is pending approval by the State Board of Regents and the state legislature.

The first U. S. vice president to be nominated specifically for that position was George Clinton, who ran with Thomas Jefferson in the 1804 election.

College Trustees Meet Demands Of Campus Workers

WILBERFORCE, Ohio (AP) — Nonacademic employes at Central State University were granted pay raises and other demands Thursday, hours before threatened undisclosed action against the school.

The Board of Trustees, at a regular meeting, approved a 10 per cent pay increase, paid hospitalization and life insurance, free parking, free meals for cafeteria workers and grievance procedures, plus payroll checkoff of union dues.

About 200 nonteaching employes had set a deadline and said if their demands were not met, they would take "positive action." They are members of Local 361, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes.

The union got support Wednesday from 300 students who demonstrated in support of the employes. The students staged a sit-in in the administration building trapping President Harry E. Groves and other university officials in their offices for three hours.

The trustees said 5 per cent of the pay hike had previously been planned. The other 5 per cent is pending approval by the State Board of Regents and the state legislature.

The first U. S. vice president to be nominated specifically for that position was George Clinton, who ran with Thomas Jefferson in the 1804 election.

QUESTION: Was there really a battle of Troy?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Troy was an actual city, situated, as our map shows, across the Aegean Sea from Greece. Archaeologists, however, have found ruins, not of one city of Troy, but of nine separate Troys. Each new Troy was built on top of one which had been destroyed. As the first Troy was built about 3,000 B. C., it is obvious that there were many battles fought for the control of this important city, which was on he trade route between the Mediterranean ports and rich wheat-growing regions. The most famous battle for Troy was described by the blind Greek poet, Homer, in his epic poems, the "Iliad" and the "Odyssey." These poems combined actual facts and picturesque legends. In Greek mythology, Paris, son of a Trojan king, carried off Helen, the wife of the king of Grecian Sparta. In the war that followed the Greeks tricked the Trojans by constructing a gigantic horse which the Trojans pulled into their city. The horse, however, was actually filled with Greek warriors who swarmed out to conquer the city.

Pittsburgh Negro Pupils Threaten School Boycott

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A boycott by Negro pupils was threatened today at Oliver High School where police patrolled hallways following two straight days of clashes between Negroes and whites.

"This situation has become intolerable," declared Police Supt. James W. Slusser following Thursday's fist-swinging outbreak that sent seven pupils to hospitals with minor injuries.

Dr. Sidney P. Marland, superintendent of city schools, blamed the trouble on "certain forces outside the school." He vowed to keep it open, using armed policemen for the first time in city public school history to maintain order.

Negro pupils met at a neighborhood church after Thursday's fighting and said they would boycott classes until the Board of Education met with them to talk over the grievances.

The Negroes said they wouldn't go to school with police inside.

They said better lines of communication are needed between the students and faculty and asked to meet with white pupils to talk over their problems.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS SPEAK LOUDER THAN PROMISES

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

★ In January of 1967, East Liverpool's workable program for community improvement was approved by the federal government, enabling the Metropolitan Housing Authority to prepare plans for 130 low-rent apartments for the elderly and 130 low-rent units for low income families. The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development has approved $2,135,435 for the project for low-rent housing for the elderly citizens in East Liverpool, which means this program will become a reality. To qualify for completion of this and other projects with federal aid, the workable program must be recertified by Jan. 1, 1968. East Liverpool is the only city in Columbiana County that has qualified for federal assistance under this program.

★ Resurfaced Route 39 in the downtown area — Jefferson St., 6th St., Broadway and 5th St. at a cost to the city of $5,000. The state's share of the cost was $13,074.40, for a total of $18,074.40.

★ Resurfacing of sections of Washington St., Market St., Jackson St., the Diamond and Crook Alley at a cost to the city of $7,919.50. Resurfacing of three city-owned off-street parking lots at a cost of $1,830. Resurfacing of Dewey Ave. in cooperation with Liverpool Township trustees at a cost of $483.65 to the city.

★ Seal-coated 19 miles of city streets in 1966 and 1967 at a total cost of $36,481.18 — all paid out of city funds, with no cost to property-owners. Applied original asphaltic coatings to four miles of city streets at a cost of $6,401.02 to the city and $5,643.97 to property-owners, for a total of $12,044.99.

★ Plans have been completed and the state is in the process of acquiring right-of-way for the improvement of Route 267 (Lisbon St.) from W. 8th St. to the city limits. This improvement will be made with no assessment to property-owners. The city's share in the amount of $45,000 has already been appropriated. Total cost of this project is $300,000.

★ A contract has been awarded and work has started on the 9th St. Ramp. This $252,000 State Highway Department contract will be supplemented with federal funds. The city's contribution amounted to $12,500.

★ The new Street Department garage was purchased in 1966, making it possible to properly house equipment and supplies such as salt, ashes, blacktop and patching material under cover. Having the supplies and equipment in a central location has speeded up snow and ice control work. Also located here is the city maintenance garage for servicing city-owned rolling stock. A preventative maintenance program has been put into effect.

★ A new sanitary landfill tract of over 150 acres was purchased in 1967 for $10,000. It provides a county-approved tract for trash and rubbish disposal for many years to come.

★ New mercury vapor type street lighting has been installed in the North Side area, replacing old fixtures, and plans are under way to proceed with similar new lighting to the state line on Route 39.

★ Moved forward with purchase of many items of equipment and contracts for maintenance and renovation, including in 1966: Purchase of 595 new parking meters; acquisition of the annex to the Ceramic Parking lot, providing 71 additional auto spaces; purchased a snow-blower; purchased and installed 2,400 feet of guard rail; purchased a new street sweeper; re-roofed the City Hall and recodified the City Code under a $2,500 contract.

RETAIN

GEORGE E. WILLSHAW

REPUBLICAN FOR

MAYOR

REMEMBER AT THE POLLS TUESDAY

WILLSHAW means PROGRESS FOR EAST LIVERPOOL

WILLSHAW'S PROGRAM FOR PROGRESS

★ A major citywide street paving program will be put into effect and continued on an annual basis with City operating funds bearing a large part of the cost.

★ The Fire Department must be modernized by the acquisition of new equipment and construction of a new northside Fire station possibly in a more central location.

★ Due to the constant increase in motorized transportation it is imperative that we move forward with plans for the extension of the Freeway thru East End to the State line to connect with the Pennsylvania Highway system. This will entail an expenditure of approximately $20,000 but it is necessary if East Liverpool is to keep pace with the modern highway network in this area.

★ We need and must have more recreational facilities for persons in all age groups. A lot has been done in the last few years particularly through improvement at Thompson Park, along with the establishment of three new playgrounds and space made available for two new fields at the Bloomfield Landfill. However, we must move forward in other areas of recreation.

★ In order that East Liverpool can take full advantage of the Federal Aid projects that are available and for which we have already qualified, we feel it is important that a fulltime coordinator be obtained. We are now enjoying the first fruits of the efforts of a hard working Planning Commission with our low rent housing projects under way. We must realize there are many other projects for which Federal funds are available but we must constantly be applying for them thru the State Development Department and the Federal agency responsible.

★ This is not a case of asking for a Federal gift for the community but rather our opportunity to get back part of the money we have already paid the Central Government in taxes. Congress has made money available for community improvement. We must do everything possible to get our fair share.

★ The Local branch of Kent State University has now been in operation for two years thru the efforts of a hardworking board of directors and other interested people. It is a definite asset to East Liverpool and we feel we must do everything possible to help expand the facilities as soon as possible.

★ We must continue to expand Police and Fire personnel training programs. We have always considered the services of these departments to be of a professional nature and the demands are increasing every day.

★ Regarding the sanitary sewerage projects proposed for construction in 1967-68, here is the status as of October 31, 1967.

1. The Alton Street area Field Work completed. Plans are 90% complete.
2. Orchard Grove extension, Oliver Street, and Hill Street area Field work is completed. Planning is 80% complete.
3. Sunnyside area of Pleasant Heights Preliminary engineering is completed, Field work will be completed by February 1, 1968. Planning will be completed by April 1, 1968.
4. Gardendale area. Field work is completed. Planning is 85% complete.
5. Maine Blvd. project. Plans are completed and on file in Director's office.

★ A new Dog pound will be established to provide humane treatment for animals replacing the temporary quarters in the old Incinerator Dept. building.

★ Last but not least we feel it is necessary to update our street lighting system, city wide, and to secure additional downtown off street parking.

Pittsburgh Negro Pupils Threaten School Boycott

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A boycott by Negro pupils was threatened today at Oliver High School where police patrolled hallways following two straight days of clashes between Negroes and whites.

"This situation has become intolerable," declared Police Supt. James W. Slusser following Thursday's fist-swinging outbreak that sent seven pupils to hospitals with minor injuries.

Dr. Sidney P. Marland, superintendent of city schools, blamed the trouble on "certain forces outside the school." He vowed to keep it open, using armed policemen for the first time in city public school history to maintain order.

Negro pupils met at a neighborhood church after Thursday's fighting and said they would boycott classes until the Board of Education met with them to talk over the grievances.

The Negroes said they wouldn't go to school with police inside.

They said better lines of communication are needed between the students and faculty and asked to meet with white pupils to talk over their problems.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

★ In January of 1967, East Liverpool's workable program for community improvement was approved by the federal government, enabling the Metropolitan Housing Authority to prepare plans for 130 low-rent apartments for the elderly and 130 low-rent units for low income families. The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development has approved $2,135,435 for the project for low-rent housing for the elderly citizens in East Liverpool, which means this program will become a reality. To qualify for completion of this and other projects with federal aid, the workable program must be recertified by Jan. 1, 1968. East Liverpool is the only city in Columbiana County that has qualified for federal assistance under this program.

★ Resurfaced Route 39 in the downtown area — Jefferson St., 6th St., Broadway and 5th St. at a cost to the city of $5,000. The state's share of the cost was $13,074.40, for a total of $18,074.40.

★ Resurfacing of sections of Washington St., Market St., Jackson St., the Diamond and Crook Alley at a cost to the city of $7,919.50. Resurfacing of three city-owned off-street parking lots at a cost of $1,830. Resurfacing of Dewey Ave. in cooperation with Liverpool Township trustees at a cost of $483.65 to the city.

★ Seal-coated 19 miles of city streets in 1966 and 1967 at a total cost of $36,481.18 — all paid out of city funds, with no cost to property-owners. Applied original asphaltic coatings to four miles of city streets at a cost of $6,401.02 to the city and $5,643.97 to property-owners, for a total of $12,044.99.

★ Plans have been completed and the state is in the process of acquiring right-of-way for the improvement of Route 267 (Lisbon St.) from W. 8th St. to the city limits. This improvement will be made with no assessment to property-owners. The city's share in the amount of $45,000 has already been appropriated. Total cost of this project is $300,000.

★ A contract has been awarded and work has started on the 9th St. Ramp. This $252,000 State Highway Department contract will be supplemented with federal funds. The city's contribution amounted to $12,500.

★ The new Street Department garage was purchased in 1966, making it possible to properly house equipment and supplies such as salt, ashes, blacktop and patching material under cover. Having the supplies and equipment in a central location has speeded up snow and ice control work. Also located here is the city maintenance garage for servicing city-owned rolling stock. A preventative maintenance program has been put into effect.

★ A new sanitary landfill tract of over 150 acres was purchased in 1967 for $10,000. It provides a county-approved tract for trash and rubbish disposal for many years to come.

★ New mercury vapor type street lighting has been installed in the North Side area, replacing old fixtures, and plans are under way to proceed with similar new lighting to the state line on Route 39.

★ Moved forward with purchase of many items of equipment and contracts for maintenance and renovation, including in 1966: Purchase of 595 new parking meters; acquisition of the annex to the Ceramic Parking lot, providing 71 additional auto spaces; purchased a snow-blower; purchased and installed 2,400 feet of guard rail; purchased a new street sweeper; re-roofed the City Hall and recodified the City Code under a $2,500 contract.

MAYOR

REMEMBER AT THE POLLS TUESDAY

WILLSHAW'S PROGRAM FOR PROGRESS

★ A major citywide street paving program will be put into effect and continued on an annual basis with City operating funds bearing a large part of the cost.

★ The Fire Department must be modernized by the acquisition of new equipment and construction of a new northside Fire station possibly in a more central location.

★ Due to the constant increase in motorized transportation it is imperative that we move forward with plans for the extension of the Freeway thru East End to the State line to connect with the Pennsylvania Highway system. This will entail an expenditure of approximately $20,000 but it is necessary if East Liverpool is to keep pace with the modern highway network in this area.

★ We need and must have more recreational facilities for persons in all age groups. A lot has been done in the last few years particularly through improvement at Thompson Park, along with the establishment of three new playgrounds and space made available for two new fields at the Bloomfield Landfill. However, we must move forward in other areas of recreation.

★ In order that East Liverpool can take full advantage of the Federal Aid projects that are available and for which we have already qualified, we feel it is important that a fulltime coordinator be obtained. We are now enjoying the first fruits of the efforts of a hard working Planning Commission with our low rent housing projects under way. We must realize there are many other projects for which Federal funds are available but we must constantly be applying for them thru the State Development Department and the Federal agency responsible.

★ This is not a case of asking for a Federal gift for the community but rather our opportunity to get back part of the money we have already paid the Central Government in taxes. Congress has made money available for community improvement. We must do everything possible to get our fair share.

★ The Local branch of Kent State University has now been in operation for two years thru the efforts of a hardworking board of directors and other interested people. It is a definite asset to East Liverpool and we feel we must do everything possible to help expand the facilities as soon as possible.

★ We must continue to expand Police and Fire personnel training programs. We have always considered the services of these departments to be of a professional nature and the demands are increasing every day.

★ Regarding the sanitary sewerage projects proposed for construction in 1967-68, here is the status as of October 31, 1967.

1. The Alton Street area Field Work completed. Plans are 90% complete.
2. Orchard Grove extension, Oliver Street, and Hill Street area Field work is completed. Planning is 80% complete.
3. Sunnyside area of Pleasant Heights Preliminary engineering is completed, Field work will be completed by February 1, 1968. Planning will be completed by April 1, 1968.
4. Gardendale area. Field work is completed. Planning is 85% complete.
5. Maine Blvd. project. Plans are completed and on file in Director's office.

★ A new Dog pound will be established to provide humane treatment for animals replacing the temporary quarters in the old Incinerator Dept. building.

★ Last but not least we feel it is necessary to update our street lighting system, city wide, and to secure additional downtown off street parking.

Willshaw for Mayor Committee, Robert E. Vodrey, Chairman, Elysian Way, E. L. O.
